MADERO IS OVERTHROWN BY HIS OWN GENERALS

Made Prisoner in the Palace, Madero Signs Resignation

HUERTA PROCLAIMED PROVISIONAL PRESIDENT

UNITED STATES INTENDS TO DEAL WITH GEN. HUERTA

Ambassador Wilson Will Be Ordered at Once to Recognize the De Facto Government.

WARSHIPS TO REMAIN AT THE MEXICAN PORTS

Washington, February 18.—With the government of President Francisco I. Madero fallen and General Victoriana Huerta proclaimed president of Mexico, it devolves upon American Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson at once to treat with the de facto Mexican government for the protection of Americans throughout the republic.

Political recognition of the government which emerged tonight out of the travail through which Mexico has passed in the last two years will be a slower proceeding. But with several Americans killed and many wounded from the bullets of the contending forces in Mexico City and thousands rendered homeless because of the carnage which has resulted from the short range firing in the streets of the city, Mr. Wilson's first duty will be to treat with the new president for amelioration of the conditions imposed upon Americans and other foreigners, especially since the revolution entered its last stages.

Mexico Is Torn Asunder.

While this government will take no concern over the choice of a successor to President Madero, such a successor will have to demonstrate his ability to maintain stable government before political recognition will be accorded him by the United States. Mexico is today honeycombed and torn asunder by many revolutionary movements. The principal of these are the Orozco movement in the north and the Zapata uprising in the south. Lawlessness has become rife and robber bands, masquerading as revolutionists, have sent terror through the country from the Rio Grande to Yucatan.

To lay claim to political recognition from this government, this government will demand that the new president, be he General Huerta or some other, must put an end to these disturbing elements, restore order and establish the workings of justice in the states.

The formality of political recognition, in all likelihood, will fall to the administration of President-elect Wilson. There would hardly be time for the negotiations in the remaining ten days of President Taft's term of office. In the event that Ambassador Wilson's term as ambassador of the United States in Mexico's capital should close with the administration which sent him, it would first be necessary for the president of the United States to appoint his successor. This diplomat would be in a position to further negotiations incidental to recognition of the new Mexican regime when that government has demonstrated its ability to enforce the law.

Ready to Protect Americans

The news tonight found this government still firm in its policy of non-

REPORT IS MADE ON NEW CHARTER

Committee of Twenty-Five Held Important Meeting Tuesday, Then Adjourned for Two Weeks.

The committee of twenty-five met yesterday afternoon in the city hall for the purpose of considering the revised charter submitted by the subcommittee of seven.

After a discussion of several features of the new form of government, and hearing a number of amendments which were offered, the committee adjourned for two weeks in order to give the members more time for consideration.

A committee representing labor interests appeared at the meeting to suggest an eight-hour law and the lowering of the per cent of voters required for the recall of an officer.

Many Members rPesent.

Those present at the meeting Tuesday afternoon were Mayor Woodward, J. H. Harwell, John E. McClelland, John J. Morris, Joseph Loweus, Orville H. Hall, Forrest Green, C. F. Riddell, Claude L. Ashley, Charles T. Hopkins, John H. Welch, J. J. Greer, George K. Boynton, Judge Spencer Atkinson, S. S. Bauknight, John S. Candler, George Adair, J. T. Kimbrough, Willis M. Everett, A. R. Colcord, Wilmer L. Moore, V. N. Carroll and Captain J. W. English.

In his preliminary remarks to the committee in calling the meeting to order, Mayor Woodward declared that the wrong impression has been circulated that the new charter represents commission government. He said that it still retains the administrative and legislative features.

Personal Feelings Should Not Figure.

"The charter has met with my approval," the mayor said. "Personal feelings should not enter into the issue to prevent Atlanta getting a new charter.

"My name does not appear in the charter, although my friends wanted it to. If I want to run for office that is a privilege I will have. I am willing to be wiped out with the others."

The report submitted by Chairman John E. McClelland, of the committee of seven, was read. It reviewed at length the changes suggested and incorporated after the charter had been submitted by the committee of three. The report urged upon the committee to retain the clause prohibiting any public utility corporation stockholder from holding office under the charter.

It also reviewed that clause in the charter which refers to the people the question of whether there shall be a board to administer school affairs.

Councilman Ashley suggested that the committee hear from Messrs. Jerome Jones, William Robinson and R. E. Rollings, a committee representing the Atlanta Federation of Trades. The suggestion was adopted.

Labor Offers Amendment.

"Eight hours shall constitute a day's work in all departments of the city where artisans or mechanics are employed, and no one connected with any department shall be required to work more than eight hours; provided, however, in emergencies more than eight hours' work in any one day may be required from any employee at the rate of pay of price and one-half his regular compensation for all time more than eight hours, the head of the department requiring this extra work to be the judge of the emergency. The above shall also be understood to refer to all contract work done for the city where bids are asked and the work done by private concerns or individuals.

All work done under the eight-hour clause shall be paid for at not less than the prevailing rate of pay established by the union of the craft employed.

Provisions for a workable "initiative, referendum and recall" on a basis of not over ten, fifteen and twenty per cent, respectively, and that a referendum upon all franchises be compulsory.

There is no clause in the charter as drafted by Messrs. Candler, McClelland and Hopkins relating to how many hours shall constitute a workday.

Labor leaders say that they will insist on it going into the charter.

Thirty per cent of the voters of the city, under the new charter, constitute a sufficient majority to recall an officer, but the trade unions want the percentage cut down to 20 per cent of the voters in the previous election.

Joseph Loweus, a member of the general committee, after the labor representatives had finished their appeal, suggested that the committee of twenty-five be divided into ten committees to represent each city ward, and that each committee confer with the people of the ward as to their wishes.

The committee believed the method would be cumbersome and would only put the charter project in a maze, and declined to put the suggestion in the form of a motion to be voted on.

The agitation in favor of having the charter printed was started by Councilman J. J. Greer, of the fifth ward. He said when his attention was called to the fact that the charter had been printed verbatim in The Constitution and The Georgian that he had not read it.

President Wilmer Moore, of the chamber of commerce, opposed delaying the progress of the charter by having

MADERO, THE NATIONAL PALACE AND DIAZ

President Madero has been overthrown and is a prisoner in the national palace of Mexico. His downfall was brought about by his own generals, Blanquet and Huerta. General Huerta, after a conference with General Felix Diaz, who led the revolution against Madero, has been proclaimed provisional president. Diaz, who caused the downfall of Madero, is a nephew of Porfirio Diaz, who was overthrown by Madero. The overthrow of Madero was the climax of ten days of bloody street fighting in the City of Mexico.

COCHRAN MAKES REPLY TO ORDER FOR CANNON

Declines to Order Them Moved From Grant Park Till the Board Meets in March.

"Send your troops out and take them—I presume that the park hands will offer no effectual resistance."

With these words, addressed to his excellency, the governor of Georgia, J. O. Cochran, who is president of the park commission, answers the request of the state for the return of the cannon that defended the capitol at Milledgeville against the attack of Sherman. They were loaned to Grant Park 25 years ago.

Wednesday was the day named for the return of the cannon, and the answer came from Mr. Cochran on Tuesday, in the form of a letter to the governor, saying that he would not order the park department to return the cannon, unless the park commission itself should choose to vote on the question at its next meeting in March and order the return.

Governor Brown's official letter to Mr. Cochran, which brought forth the answer received Tuesday, quoted as follows from a letter dated March 12, 1887, from Sidney Root, president of the park board, to General John B. Gordon, then governor of Georgia:

"I hereby agree that the guns shall be properly cared for, and surrendered to the authorities of the state on demand." In another letter, dated February 5, 1887, Mr. Root said, "We being responsible for their preservation and their prompt remittance on call."

Mr. Cochran's letter in reply reads as follows:

"February, 18, 1913.

"Hon. Jos. M. Brown, Governor, Atlanta, Ga.

"Dear Sir: Answering your favor of the 14th inst. regarding the two cannon in Grant Park which were loaned to the City of Atlanta more than 20 years ago by Governor John B. Gordon, I beg to state that if you consider it necessary to the peace and dignity of the great state of Georgia that these cannon be removed from Grant Park and located elsewhere that we shall offer no further objection.

"However, I do desire to say that it seems strange indeed that it now becomes imperative that the state must get possession of these cannon after they have been allowed to stay there for nearly a quarter of a century. They are there subject to your orders. I shall not order the park department to return them to the state capitol, unless the park commission at its next meeting, the first Tuesday in March, should choose to order them returned.

"As to the worthless cannon which you propose to give us in the place of these two historic cannon, I beg to advise that so far as I am personally concerned we do not want them. They have no history and mean nothing. However, if the park board requests the state to give us these cannon in place of those you are taking away from us, it will be all right with me. The cannon are there at old Fort Walker, so if it is so necessary that you have them by Wednesday, send your troops out and take them. I presume that the park hands will offer no effectual resistance. Yours very truly,

"J. O. COCHRAN.

MADERO WAS ARRESTED BY GENERAL BLANQUET CHIEF OF BODY GUARD

While Blanquet Was Seizing President, Huerta Was Arresting Gustavo Madero, With Whom He Was Dining.

Mexico City, February 18.—Francisco Madero signed his resignation tonight while a prisoner in the national palace. He was given the choice of resigning or of being exiled.

Mexico City, February 18.—Francisco I. Madero has been forced out of the presidency. He was arrested at the national palace shortly before 3 o'clock this afternoon by General Blanquet.

General Victoriano Huerta, commander of the federal troops, was proclaimed provisional president.

About the time Madero was seized by Blanquet, his brother, Gustavo Madero, the former minister of finance, was arrested by General Huerta, who was dining with him in a public restaurant.

All members of the cabinet were promptly placed under arrest, with the exception of Ernesto Madero, the uncle of the president, who held the portfolio of finance. He was apprised of the intentions against the government and managed to make his escape.

OVERTHROW OF PRESIDENT MADERO WAS CAUSED BY A PLOT FORMED BY HIS OWN GENERALS

Notwithstanding the fact that some definite action was expected today, the coup d'etat at the palace caused a sensation and the exact status of affairs could not be ascertained for several hours.

The direct movement against Madero was the result of a plot which had been brewing since yesterday, and which possibly existed with Blanquet for a much greater length of time.

From the first it had been known that General Blanquet was unwilling to fight. His men were of the same mind. He held complete command over them, and it was not doubted that they would follow him in any adventure which they did at the national palace this afternoon.

The forces, numbering 1,000 men, which arrived late yesterday, were sent immediately to the palace, ostensibly to relieve the reserves there. The reserves were sent into the field.

BLANQUET AND HUERTA FRAMED THE CONSPIRACY AND THEN TURNED THE TROOPS AGAINST MADERO

An agreement between Generals Blanquet and Huerta was reached last night, but the first intimation that Blanquet's men had of the new role they were to play was shortly before the successful stroke was made. Blanquet drew his men up in order and delivered a stirring speech.

"This inhuman battle must end," he said. "The time has come when some drastic means must be taken to stop a conflict in which father is killing son and brother is fighting against brother; when non-combatants are sharing the fate of war—and all this because of the caprice of one man."

Blanquet then issued orders for the arrest of the president and assigned a detachment to that duty. Madero was soon a prisoner in his own rooms.

One reason given for the attitude of General Blanquet from the beginning was the presence of his son in the ranks of Diaz.

GREAT CROWDS IN STREET SHOUT FOR HUERTA AND DIAZ

When the arrest of the president and his ministers became known crowds gathered in the streets through which they paraded shouting "vivas" for Huerta and Diaz.

A conference was held between the representatives of these two generals and an agreement was reached whereby the appointment of General Huerta to the provisional presidency was proclaimed.

The fire from the rebel rifles and machine guns was long sustained. It was by no means certain at that time that the coup which had been carried out meant the end of hostilities. At 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon the cannonading was still heavier than before and the rattle of machine guns was heard in various quarters. At that time San Francisco street was being cleared by Huerta as if he were expecting an attack.

A half-hour later the order to cease firing was sounded and the battle was over.

SEVERAL SHOTS EXCHANGED WHEN MADERO WAS ARRESTED

A few loyal members of Madero's staff rushed into the room when Madero was struggling with the soldiers and went to his rescue, but ineffectually. Captain Carmedia, who had just been appointed chief of police, advanced upon Colonel Riveroll, shooting and wounding him seriously. Immediately there was an exchange of shots and three or four members of the president's staff are said to have been wounded.

Just to make the records clear, Madero has been given reasonable time in which to write his resignation. Failure to do this, it is said, will result in his being sent with his family to Vera Cruz, where they will be given the choice of out-going vessels.

General Delgago, who acted as the emissary of Madero in the negotiations for an armistice Sunday, has been arrested. Huerta and his supporters did

MOTHER RISKS LIFE TO SAVE HER BABY

Bundles Child Into a Steamer Trunk and Drags It From Flaming House.

While burning timbers were falling at 148 Bass street Mrs. Ernest Still, wife of an instructor in the American college in Porto Rico, last night bundled her 5-months-old babe into a steamer trunk and dragged it to safety.

She was slightly blistered by the flames. The child was unhurt, due to the mother's forethought in packing it in the steamer trunk. The building was totally destroyed. Mr. Hudson, who discovered the fire, was burned about the face and head.

The residence was owned by Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hudson, the parents of Mrs. Still. With her husband and child Mrs. Still have been visiting the Hudsons. All occupants of the house had retired last night shortly after 9 o'clock, when Mr. Hudson was wakened by sounds of a crash.

Smoke already had filled the room. As he ran into the hallway a beam from the roof fell through, barely missing the man and falling to the floor in the hall. He was badly blistered about the face and hands. The flames had then enveloped the room.

Mr. Hudson shouted "Fire!" and knocked on all doors. Mrs. Hudson ran in her night clothes to the street. Mr. and Mrs. Still were awakened. He was in a room adjoining his wife's and was the last to wake. His wife, clad only in her nightgown, bundled her daughter, Shirley, aged only 5 months, into a heavy steamer trunk and dragged it through the hallway and across the burning beam that had fallen through.

Barely had the occupants deserted the residence before the roof caved in. Excepting the steamer trunk in which Mrs. Still rescued her child and the piano that was saved by passers-by and firemen, the building and contents were totally destroyed.

Neighbors furnished clothing and beds for the remainder of the night. The house and contents were fully covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Orozco Says Huerta Must Give Way to De La Barra Or to Gen. Trevino—Otherwise Rebellion Continues.

Laredo, Texas, February 18.—When informed by a representative of the Associated Press that the Madero government had been overthrown and General Huerta named provisional president, Col. Pascual Orozco, Sr., and Col. Andres Garza Galan, revolutionary leaders in the north of Mexico, declared that the revolutionists in that section would not approve the selection of Huerta, and would continue the rebellion unless another is chosen to manage the affairs of Mexico, preferably Senor de La Barra or General Geronimo Trevino.

The two leaders who are in command of the rebel forces in control of Neuvo Laredo, made a joint statement in which they said:

"We cannot believe that, under any circumstances, would Felix Diaz accept General Huerta as temporary president. The revolutionists of the north, both here and in the state of Chihuahua, are in favor of either one of two men for the temporary presidency—Senor Francisco de La Barra or General Ceronimo Trevino, and, in the event General Huerta has been proclaimed temporary president, will continue their campaign until a man entirely agreeable to the entire country is selected to manage the affairs of Mexico."

Neither would comment further relative to plans for continuing the rebellion.

not trust Delgago to come into their plan.

Twenty men of the Twenty-ninth infantry of Blanquet's forces were entrusted with the duty of guarding the private rooms of the president at the beginning of the revolt in the palace.

MADERO PUT UNDER ARREST IN THE HALL OF AMBASSADORS.

The arrest of Madero took place in the hall of the ambassadors. When the president entered the room he found all the entrances guarded. One soldier, over-excited by the words of Blanquet, pointed his gun at the breast of Madero, who leaped upon him. In the struggle the gun was discharged, without injuring anyone. The soldier was disarmed and placed under arrest by order of Huerta on the charge of firing without orders.

Up to a late hourt the vice president of the republic, Jose Piono Suarez, had not been found. Detachments of troops were searching for him.

The finest irony attended the arrest of Gustavo Maredo, the brother of the president, distinguished as a politician, to whose door most of the evils of the administration have been laid.

GUSTAVO MADERO ARRESTED WHILE ENTERTAINING HUERTA

He had invited General Huerta to luncheon at the Gambrinus, a popular restaurant. This was a custom with Gustavo Madero in winning favor. General Huerta, however, had invited guests unknown to his host. In a room adjoining he had stationed a detachment of the Chapultepec Park guards.

All were preparing to take their seats when, at a signal from Huerta, the officer in command entered. Pointing a pistol at Madero, he announced he was under arrest. At the same moment soldiers filing into the room cleared it of all except the principals. Gustavo loudly protested against this indignity, but General Huerta replied in a loud voice condemning the Madero family.

General Victoriana Huerta, named as provisional president of Mexico, is the former commander of the north division of the army. He has seen much service in the present campaign, and last year fought a number of engagements against the insurrectos under Orozco.

Huerta retired from his command last December and was offered a post in the war department. When the Diaz revolt began in the capital, Huerta led the government troops, and was named as post commander of Mexico City when General Villar was wounded.

WOMEN OF MADERO FAMILY WHISKED AWAY IN AUTO

Women members of the Madero family who were in Chapultepec castle were whisked away in automobile by friends who had learned of the coup at the national palace.

Telegrams have been sent to the governors of the states notifying them of the proclamation of Huerta as provisional president and also to the military commanders assuring them that general elections will be held to select a president.

General Huerta made a speech from the balcony of the palace to the assembled crowds. He declared he had no personal ambition and announced himself as military governor and General Blanquet as military commander of the federal district.

It is fully believed that a definite agreement will be reached between the rebel forces and General Huerta. The negotiations will be conducted through the American embassy.

Word came from the rebel positions early in the evening that General Diaz was preparing his troops to unite them with those of General Huerta.

Huerta received a commission from the diplomatic corps. He said he had assumed the provisional presidency and would deliver it to whomever congress designated.

General Felipe Angles, refusing to support the movement, was placed under arrest.

MADERO TRIES TO SAVE SELF BY SACRIFICING HIS CABINET

Previous to the arrest of President Madero he had agreed, in principle, to the appointment of a president ad interim.

The announcement that Madero had agreed to the appointment of a provisional president was made on the authority of the Mexican foreign minister, Senor Lascurain.

The news of Madero's decision became known in the early forenoon.

At that hour the position of the government was weakened and the federal troops were apparently becoming demoralized.

The situation of the government forces became so critical that one strong detachment of federal troops retired from the capital before noon and marched in the direction of Cuernavaca, forty miles to the southward.

After noon no one, even though possessed of a pass, was permitted to enter the national palace. This was by order of General Huerta, commander-in-chief of the federals.

Subsequently President Madero made an offer to Felix Diaz to bring about the resignation of Vice President Piono Suarez and the entire cabinet, but that he himself shall remain in office.

SEVERAL LOOTERS CAUGHT AND IMMEDIATELY KILLED

A number of looters were caught today and summarily executed in the outlying districts of the city. A few small provision stores there have been sacked by hungry mobs, but there has been nothing like systematic looting, both federal and rebel soldiers doing their utmost to hold the populace in check.

Some federals who tried to join Diaz were caught, disarmed and marched back to the national palace, where they were summarily shot. In one instance more than thirty federal soldiers were lined before the firing squad at the same time.

Silas F. Gilmore, an elderly American, who is the manager of an important mechanical work here, received three bullets in his right forearm today as he was unconcernedly walking along Colima street. He ran into the middle of a skirmish between detachments of rebels and federals.

U. S. TO DEAL WITH GEN. HUERTA

intervention and unwavering in its preparation, upon a moment's notice, to strike an aggressive blow for the defense of American citizens should occasion yet demand it. Although the change, which it is believed will bring relief from the intolerable conditions following in the wake of ten days of bloody fighting was welcome to those who carry the burdens of state, official Washington had no comment to make on the outcome.

Dispatches from Ambassador Wilson confirmed the salient features of Madero's fall and Huerta's rise to power, but state department officials withheld their opinion. No one sought, however, to conceal satisfaction in the assurance of protection to life and property which the re-establishment of order in Mexico City would bring to the thousands of Americans and other foreigners for whose safety this government is responsible before the world.

Although the step which would have sent American soldiery into Mexico had not been taken, every branch of the defensive arm of the service was organized to its highest efficiency.

The word of command was all that was necessary to send troops across the border or to land blue jackets and marines from the six warships already swinging at anchor on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts of the disturbed republic.

Two thousand marines gathered all along the Atlantic coast are tonight ready to sail for Guantanamo, Cuba, only a few hours from Vera Cruz. Every detail in fact was in readiness, had attacks upon Americans, as such, forced this government to pursue the policy which officials hope now will not be necessary.

Warships Stay in Mexic Waters.

It is not expected that the United States will be in haste to withdraw its battleships and cruisers from Mexican waters. The problems of re-constructions which Mexico now must face will require no little time to inaugurate and the presence of United States warships will serve as a reminder to all elements that American life and property must be protected. The cruisers Colorado and South Dakota now are at Manzanilla and Acapulco on the Pacific coast, while four others are in the Gulf of Mexico and the Atlantic coast. These are the battleship Virginia, at Tampico, and the battleships Vermont, Georgia and Nebraska at Vera Cruz. The 2,000 marines under orders tonight to sail for Guantanamo probably will proceed to their camp there. In the event that their services are not needed in Mexico, they can participate to advantage in the maneuvers of the Atlantic fleet now in only a few hours' run from the Gulf of Mexico.

Surprise was expressed at the Mexican embassy here when Senor De La Cueva, charge d'affaires, and the members of the staff were informed fo Madero's overthrow and it brought a feeling of relief, in that the suspense which they had been undergoing in the last ten days had been lifted.

Having received little official information from Mexico City the embassy had not been able, it was said, to forecast the result of the revolution. The staff, however, appeared to be satisfied that a settlement had been reached, even if it had resulted in a change in government.

Huerta a Stern Soldier.

General Huerta was described by attaches of the embassy as a stern soldier of the type of former President Diaz, a man of great personal bravery and a friend of the elder Diaz. On account of his long service and bravery, it was said, he was popular with the army and well-known throughout the republic. Felix Diaz, leader of the revolution, and General Huerta also, had been good friends before the Madero conflict arrayed them in opposing camps.

it printed. He said that the committee should give the men who drafted the charter unanimous support. He said they had labored faithfully in the interest of the city, and disregarded every other consideration.

In Interest of Atlanta.

"Let's get together and talk about the interests of the city and not ward lines," Captain J. W. English, the banker, said with emphasis.

He said that he believed too much power was being given council. He said there should be a board of review composed of five aldermen from the city at large. He said council should not be composed of less than fifteen nor more than twenty-five members.

Alderman McClelland suggested that 5,000 copies of the charter be printed and distributed among members of the committee, council and the people of Atlanta. He urged that the next meeting be held within one week.

Committeeman Loweus moved that the meeting be held in two weeks and the point was carried.

Councilman Hall said that he thought it would be a good scheme to have the amended charter printed; also those sections of the old charter referred to in the new be incorporated for the guidance of those who wished to make a study of the subject.

2,000 DEAD, 10,000 WOUNDED AS RESULT OF LONG BATTLE BETWEEN DIAZ AND MADERO

Mexico City, February 17.—(By Courier to Vera Cruz, February 18.)—All the horrors of a bombardment have been experienced by the residents of this city for many days, and to those that might be expected have been the effects of vicious machine gun and rifle fire in the streets at a range sometimes of less than 100 yards.

Scarcely a district of the capital has escaped injury. Over and over through every quarter at some time shells have torn and screeched and exploded. Little round shells from the automatic pompoms have added to the terror and destruction.

Hundreds of buildings attest by their hole-marked sides and wrecked interiors to the destructive qualities of modern artillery.

How many have been killed or wounded is a question which none can answer with any exactitude. It is doubtful whether even the government records will ever reveal the correct number.

2,000 Dead; 10,000 Wounded.

From a source usually considered careful and conservative it has been stated that the number of dead is not less than 2,000, while the total number of the wounded amounts to from 8,000 to 10,000. The great majority of these are not soldiers, but men, women and children unable to escape the lines of fire. This estimate was made after hearing the reports of scores of officers of the White and Red Cross societies and of the hospitals.

It is a well-known fact that detachments of fifty and 100 men have been slaughtered here and there at various times when caught in the narrow streets and mowed down by machine guns.

Carts piled high with corpses have been seen to be driven past a certain point to a spot in the outskirts of the city, where the bodies have been burned.

Every morning may be seen what appears in the zone of the actual fight to be piles of burning rubbish. These heaps are for the most part rubbish, but the odor of burning flesh tells another story.

A practical, though grewsome method has been utilized in one place. The gas escaping from a broken main has been lighted and there in that steady flame has been improvised a crematory.

Alone With Wife's Corpse

In the basement of an apartment house a few blocks from the arsenal is the grave of Mrs. E. W. Holmes, one of the two American women killed early in the fighting by the entrance into her home of a shell. For three days her husband remained alone there with the corpse, unable to remove it and unwilling to leave it perhaps to suffer further mutilation.

Soldiers entered the apartment where he kept vigil and before his eyes robbed the place. He managed to find boards and carpenters' tools and nails in the building and constructed a coffin, into which he laid the body of his wife. He carried it to the basement and there dug and filled her grave.

The absolute cessation of all industrial and business activity is fast reducing an enormous number of noncombatants to a state bordering on starvation. The more fortunate are, in many cases, able to take care of themselves, but the closing of the banks has made precarious the condition even of some of these. The provisional banking institution, established for American residents who find themselves in difficulties, has been meeting their demands with currency. Aside from the question of money, however, the situation has been rendered more difficult by the failure of vegetables and other farm produce to reach the city for some days. During the night quantities enter but not nearly enough to supply the demand, and meat is something with which thousands have had no acquaintance for days.

Neither the forces loyal to President Francisco Madero nor those commanded by the rebel, Felix Diaz, had been defeated at the close of fighting in the center of Mexico City on Monday night. Nor did either side show indications of giving way.

Another Chapter to Desolation

The operations of the day added another chapter to the records of the desolation and anxiety caused by the constant bombardment which had lasted over a week. The scene of the struggle remained in the streets of the capital, which were practically deserted by all but the military, the inhabitants having either departed to the outer suburbs or taken refuge in cellars.

The government maintained in action throughout the day's fighting the usual number of batteries of artillery, and added a heavier piece than any previously used. Late in the afternoon the federal commander placed at the southeastern corner of the city two big guns which had been intended for the fortifications of Selina Cruz, the Pacific terminus of the Sehuantepec railroad.

In spite of these heavy pieces being brought into action against the rebel positions, Diaz and his followers appear to have suffered only slightly. Shot for shot, the rebel artillery replied, at times silencing temporarily the government's guns.

It was another day of artillery fighting, without any decisive results being achieved. Late in the evening, when the firing had become more or less casual, there was no reason to believe that Tuesday would not see a continuation of what had become one of the most remarkable battles fought on the American continent in recent years.

Felix Diaz had at the end of the day succeeded in holding all his central positions, and had even advanced his lines in a number of directions, especially toward the west.

Besides the heavier artillery, he brought into action during the day day some small bomb-throwing pompoms, whose peculiar roar added to the never-dying noise of firing.

Rifle Balls Everywhere.

Rifle balls slipped far out of the actual zone of fighting into all quarters of the city, one of them embedding itself during the day in the kitchen of the United States embassy.

Many shells burst over the central part of the city. On the line of fire from the rebel center at the arsenal toward the federal headquarters at the national palace the destruction of private and public buildings increased considerably.

Almost all the American residents took advantage of the Sunday truce to seek places of safety. Most of them retired to the vicinity of the United States embassy, but by Monday night it became evident that the safety to be found there was more fancied than real.

The government, however was honest in its efforts not to involve foreigners. Up to a late hour the federal commander had not placed any of his batteries in such positions as would draw fire in the direction of the foreigners.

Some apprehension, however, was felt by the refugees on account of the steady advance of the rebel lines. The insurgent outposts had crawled far out to the west of the city, apparently with the object of obtaining a position whence they could attack from the flank the federal artillery in the north and west which had kept up its pounding of the rebel positions with monotonous regularity.

If the rebels succeeded in carrying out their flanking movement, it was only natural that the federal artillery should fire across at them. This would bring the embassy district directly into lines. The embassy building itself was not more than two blocks distant from the rebel outpost.

General Victoriano Huerta, commander-in-chief of the federal troops, issued orders to Colonel Rubio Navarrete, chief of artillery, under no circumstances to use his cannon to rid the district of rebel sharpshooters or small groups, but to reserve their fire for attacking the rebel fortified positions or to resist an assault. He was actuated in this by the desire to spare the city and its inhabitants as much danger as possible.

Probably the best thing about overconfidence is that if a girl didn't have it she wouldn't ever marry.

TEXAS WOMAN SAVED HER BOY BY USING GREAT KIDNEY REMEDY

My boy at about thirteen years of age had a very severe attack of Swamp Fever, which left him with hemorrhage of the kidneys. He would have from two to four attacks a year. We had several physicians attending him for three years. The Doctors told my family we would not raise him to be twenty-one years old.

I saw your advertisement in the papers. As a last resort I gave up the doctors and tried Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. After using several bottles was so well pleased with the result we stuck to it and he is now twenty-one years old and a perfect and stout man. We can highly recommend Swamp-Root for kidney trouble.

Very truly yours,
MRS. RITCHIE PATTERSON,
428 23rd Street, Paris, Texas.

Prove What Swamp-Root Will Do For You

Send to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling all about the kidneys and bladder. When writing be sure and mention The Atlanta Daily Constitution. Regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

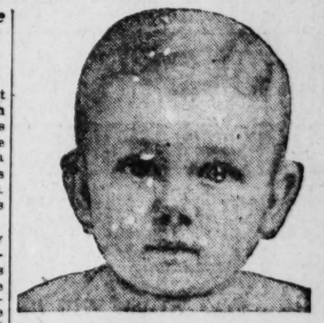
This Should Keep The Baby Healthy

When It Is Ill Don't Become Alarmed But Give This Fine Laxative.

It is often difficult to tell just what is the matter with a crying, peevish baby or child too young to express its feelings in words, but as a general rule the mother will find that there is a tendency to constipation, which has brought on a headache or nervousness. The little one has no pain, but feels "out of sorts."

The first thing to try is a family remedy containing good but mild laxative properties, and many mothers will say that their choice would be Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Thousands of mothers keep it in the house for such emergencies, among whom may be mentioned Mrs. Jennie Manuel, Altamont, Ill., who began to give her baby, Frederick, Syrup Pepsin when he was 8 months old, and has used it ever since with gratifying results. She writes that Frederick was not growing well and threw up his food, but after a few days' use of Syrup Pepsin he was able to retain his food and gained rapidly in weight. Thousands of others are glad to say that Syrup Pepsin saved them many an illness and many a large doctor bill, for by administering it promptly, when the first symptoms of illness were noticed, they prevented a serious ailment.

It is so pleasant-tasting that no child will refuse it, and as it does not gripe, the child is glad to take it again. A bottle can be obtained of any druggist for fifty cents or one dollar, the latter being the size bought by families already familiar with its merits.



FREDERICK MANUEL.

Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

Syrup Pepsin is for all the family from infancy to old age, and because of its mildness families should prefer it over all other remedies. It is absolutely safe and reliable. You will never again give cathartics, pills, salts or such harsh physics, for they are usually unnecessary, and in the case of children, women and elderly people are a great shock to the system, and hence should be avoided.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

NEW COMPANY PROVES GROWTH OF ATLANTA

Continental Trust Company Will Be a Million-Dollar Corporation.

The movement of business men of Atlanta in organizing the Continental Trust Company, a proposed million dollar corporation, with a surplus of $250,000, is of significant import.

Never before in the history of Atlanta has a similar enterprise—bank or trust company—been organized with half as much capital as the Continental Trust company is to have at the closing of subscriptions on April 15 next. The establishing of this corporation means that Atlanta is growing, and the reputations of the incorporators foreshadow that the enterprise has been well considered and will begin business under promising auspices.

Business men point out that Greater Atlanta needs such an institution as the Continental Trust company is to be. Many business matters that should be handled in Atlanta are handled at increased cost and through a greater number of intermediaries in the larger centers of the east, or are not handled at all. Many well-established enterprises in the south are handicapped for lack of capital. The Continental Trust company will be instrumental in helping many interests and in inducing cheaper money to Atlanta and the south. It will also conduct business in all the lines of the successful trust companies of the east.

The field is broad and inviting. The gentlemen whose names appear as incorporators have been among the foremost in establishing many of the most successful enterprises in Atlanta.

It is reported that applications for a large portion of the stock have been filed with the committee since notice of the application for a charter first appeared.

There will be no commissions or other expense incurred in placing the stock, except the limited and necessary expense for chartering the company and organizing.

Descendant of Founder of Colony of Maryland Is Sent to Prison Farm

Savannah, Ga., February 18.—(Special.)—Claiming that he is a direct descendant of Lord Carroll, who, with Lord Baltimore, was one of the founders of the colony of Maryland, John Henry Carroll was sentenced in police court to thirty days on the Blue farm today for loitering. When he appeared in court he did not look the part of a descendant of nobility, his face was covered with a growth of red beard. He claimed that he had come to Savannah "to preach the gospel, write books and study conditions."

Carroll said he was a direct descendant of Lord Carroll, was from the city of Baltimore. His family is well-to-do. He is a college graduate from Maryland college and the University of Virginia, with a degree of bachelor of arts, an evangelistical preacher, author of a book, "Mother Secrets," a work of health and hygiene, a one-time newspaper man, a poet of considerable note and last but not least a member of a patriotic organization.

"I came south here to preach and to write books," he said. When asked as to the nature of the books he intended writing he said he would stress the need of more labor and sanitation in the south.

MOTHER WILL TESTIFY AGAINST SON'S "FRIEND"

A climax will be capped upon her sensational career in police court when pretty Mrs. Lula McIvet, blonde and 21, will be arraigned before Recorder Broyles this afternoon to explain her constant attention to 22-year-old T. B. Pinkston, of 23 Connally street.

Both she and Pinkston are under $300 bond. The arrest was caused by Pinkston's mother, who complained to the police of the relations of her son with Mrs. McIvet. The young woman's husband is stationed in the Philippines with the United States revenue service. Several months ago while she was residing on Fraser street she was ordered to move by the courts. She left the city, but later returned. She has figured in many police court episodes.

500 GALLONS OF BOOZE ARE POURED INTO SEWER

Five hundred gallons of Georgia whisky, made in the hills and hollows were turned into the Orme street sewer yesterday morning by Henry S. Jackson collector of internal revenue for Georgia.

And, as the barrels, caskets, jugs and bottles were emptied over the manhole in the basement of the federal building nearly a half hundred colored employees of the government were begging Deputy Collector Fairbanks for just "a taste of that good old stuff going to waste in a sewer that can't appreciate it."

For two years past the liquor, some in barrels, some in kegs, some in copper vessels, some in jugs, has been accumulated by revenue officers' raids in the mountains adn has been deposited in a large storage room in the basement of the federal building, awaiting instruction from the department in Washington.

In the past the collector of internal revenue has been advertising the accumulation for sale, but two years ago the prohibitionists raised an objection. The government Tuesday authorized the collector to get rid of the liquor by the sewer route.

FINED FOR VIOLATING SAFETY APPLIANCE LAW

Savannah, Ga., February 18.—(Special.)—Penalties aggregating $300 and costs were imposed today in the United States district court on the Central of Georgia Railway company. The company was charged, and admitted, violat the safety appliance law. The cases against the Atlantic Coast Line railroad were postponed, pending an arrangement for settlement.

There were three cases against the Central. One charged improper couplings on an engine: the second, failure to have grip irons on a car, and the third, failure to have the safety rod on a car which enables a coupling to be made without causing the brakeman to step between the cars.

JUDGE THOMAS MAY TRY DELINQUENT BEER MEN

For the coming two weeks, beginning Monday, Judge W. E. Thomas, of Valdosta, will take the place of Judge L. S. Roan on the criminal division of the Fulton superior court. During that time the trial of the eleven men indicted for the illegal arrest of negroes will be taken up, and it is also expected that about a score of near beer dealers indicted for failure to pay their taxes for 1910 and 1911 will be put on trial.

Judge Roan will be at that time on his regular bench in the Stone Mountain circuit, and Solicitor General H. M. Dorsey is anxious to push the bail cases through at an early date as possible, so he secured Judge Thomas to hold court while Judge Roan cannot be here.

The presence of Judge Thomas, which means two extra weeks of court, will also assist in clearing to some extent an already overcrowded docket which, on account of the present state of affairs, where one judge only gives part of his time to the criminal business, has grown badly congested.

Woman Victim Tramps Miles of Streets Seeking "Raffles" Who Robbed Her

The pretty victim in Monday's robbery of $1,250 worth of jewelry and $185, Mrs. Imogene D. Pearson, the Waynesboro milliner, Tuesday morning astounded detectives and friends with the startling declaration that she knew the "Raffles" person who snatched her valuables. He is "George Perkins," she said, and she met him only recently.

Accordingly she has walked every square inch of the business section, and a whole lot of the residential district in quest of the handsome and stylishly dressed thief who made away with her treasures. She was accompanied by Detective George Waggoner. Mrs. Pearson firmly believes her gems and the man who stole them are in hiding in the city.

Grand Opera Contract Signed; New Stars Coming This Season

Caruso, Hempel and Destinn Among the Great Singers Booked for Atlanta April 21-26.

Caruso is coming back! He will be the "fixed star" in this year's brilliant constellation of opera singers for the Metropolitan season in Atlanta. Most of the favorite singers already familiar to the Atlanta public will come back with him and there will be several famous new ones.

Vieing in interest with Caruso himself will be Frieda Hempel, the coloratura singer who has been hailed by New York as Tetrazzini's superior, and Lucrezia Bori, who is a noted beauty as well as wonderful singer.

The formal contract between the Atlanta Music Festival association and the Metropolitan Opera company was signed Tuesday afternoon in New York by Otto Kahn and Victor Lamar Smith.

Among the principal singers whose coming is specified in the contract, in addition to Caruso, Hempel and Bori, are Emmy Destinn, Mesdames Alda, Duchene and Homer, Scotti, Amato, Riccardo Martin, Macnez, Jorn, Gilly, Segurola, Rossi, Putnam Griswold and many others. The contract calls for seven operas to be presented at the Auditorium-Armory April 21-26, with all the immense scenery, stage settings, ballet and full orchestra of the Metropolitan, the performances to be identical in every detail with those given in the Metropolitan opera house at New York.

The contract leaves open some of the program details. The only operas that can be announced now are "Lucia," "Tosca," "Traviata" and "Manon Lescaut." Caruso will sing three times under the terms of the contract and Hempel will sing three times. Two of Hempel's appearances will be in "Lucia" and "Traviata." One of Caruso's will be with Destinn and Scotti in "Tosca."

The opera season this year will, therefore, be equally brilliant as those of past seasons. It will be of still greater interest because of the coming of stars never before heard in America outside of New York city and because not only the individual operas, but the entire nature of the week's bill is being changed this year.

ENRICO CARUSO.

SUNNY SOUTH UNKNOWN IN EUROPE SAYS VISITOR

Dr. Paul Cornuel, professor of belles letters at the University of Paris and now on tour of the world, studying the various customs and manners of different people, was the guest last night of Judge and Mrs. John R. Wilkinson at a dinner party. Mr. and Mrs. John R. Dickey, Miss Florence Rohr and Mr. Raymond Daniel were also invited guests.

That Europe knows only New York, Chicago and San Francisco and thinks of those places when America is mentioned, is the opinion of Dr. Cornuel, who for the past eighteen months has been en tour. He was brought to make the decision to learn something of the south and its people by Miss Florence Rohr, teacher of English literature at Brenau college, whom he met while she was abroad.

New Orleans held the greatest charm of American cities for the French instructor and instead of remaining there his intended two days, he spent two weeks in the ancient town. He is high in praise of the south and its customs and manners and is also struck with Atlanta as a type of the progressive southern city.

Dr. Cornuel will leave possibly tomorrow for Gainesville and after a visit to Brenau will go to New York, from whence he sails on the 1st for Paris, where he will resume his duties next month.

AUTO KILLS SCHOOLBOY

Son of Mat Watson Run Down by S. W. O'Neal's Car.

Columbus, Ga., February 18.—(Special.)—The 8-year-old son of Mat Watson, a Muscogee county planter, was killed by an auto driven by S. W. O'Neal at a point 11 miles north of Columbus this afternoon.

Mr. O'Neal and four friends were in the car and saw a group of school children near the foot of a hill which the automobile was descending. When the horn was blown the children turned and looked at the approaching car and went to one side of the road. Just as the car reached them the little Watson lad started across the road directly in front of the machine. Two of the children tried to seize him, but he went on and was struck by the car, which could not be stopped. The wheels ran over the boy and he was killed instantly.

The machine was brought to a halt after it had gone thirty feet further.

MRS. BERNARD IS DEAD; PIONEER OF ATLANTA

The death of Mrs. Louise Bernard, 89 years old, marks the passing of one of Atlanta's oldest pioneers. With her husband Mrs. Bernard was for many years operating a typical French vineyard in Atlanta and the Bernard wines were in great demand, especially among the French colony. Mrs. Bernard died at her home on the Mason and Turner's crossing Tuesday morning and the body was removed to Bloomfield's undertaking establishment.

The funeral will be held this afternoon at the Church of the Immaculate Conception and interment will be at the family cemetery. Mrs. Bernard is survived by one daughter, Miss Christine Bernard, and two sons, Peter Bernard and Jonas Bernard. She came to Atlanta from France. She will be mourned by many friends in Atlanta and throughout the state.

The Secrets Are Out

The Boxes From Estelle Mershon Are Opened and Now

The First Display of Spring Hats

You have doubtless been reading what the new styles are and you have probably formed some vague idea as to how they look.

Now you shall see.

You shall see not only those styles that have been written about, but also those that have been zealously kept hidden and secret by the high authorities in millinery for just such occasions as this.

The millinery emissary from the shop of Estelle Mershon, 20 E. 46th St., New York, has been back from Paris just long enough to send us what is new and exclusive—that Atlanta may see the latest millinery fashions coincident with New York.

What are the fashions?

Your first impression will be that the hats are "wearable," they are hats for just such days as these, the complement of the bright sunshine, the blue skies, the daffodils and the voilets.

Shapes are usually small. The English will dub them jaunty, the French will exclaim they are chic. In America we will call them jaunty and chic and certainly, smart.

The vivid colors that the Bulgarians were found to affect so lavishly dominate. There are hats of vivid green Bulgarian split straw, others of rich purple and orange. Then again this color effect is a matter of trimming. Tiny clusters—bouquets of flowers—show all the Bulgarian shades—green, purple, orange, cerise and navy.

And it seems that the two extremes in the matter of the lines of trimming are equally favored.

The tall trimming—usually an upright ostrich or numidie—is favored and the flat trimming is favored—ribbon bows placed on the back brim of hats.

Indeed, there is much in store for you today. The style-changes are marked, and who will say they are not attractive?

Accept, then, our invitation to the first display in Atlanta of the authentic millinery fashions for the spring of 1913.

TRIBUTES TO PRINCIPLE.

Whether confederate reunions, celebrating the birthdays of confederate generals and other commemorations of the "lost cause" promote or disrupt sectional amity is the theme of an interesting controversy precipitated by a recent editorial in The Commerce, Ga., News. The editor doubts if such occasions do more than keep old scars rankling. His position is sharply criticised by Judge H. W. Bell, a prominent veteran of Jackson county, who holds it would be nothing short of sacrilege to suspend memorials of this nature. The subject has been briskly discussed in some of the confederate camps and among Sons and Daughters of the Confederacy, and from the resolutions adopted Judge Bell seems to have decidedly the best of the discussion.

From the tenor of the editorial it is evident that it was written rather in a speculative mood, and it perhaps went further by inference than the writer intended. He says that "recent events indicate that sectional lines in this country have been literally destroyed, once and forever"—hence the conclusion that the less said about the past the better.

But because sectionalism is dead and buried does not mean that celebration of the glories and sacrifices of the 'sixties should be discontinued by either side. Rather the incentive is stronger, since both gray and blue can pay tribute to the nobility of their own and the other's heroes without the faintest tinge of bitterness. Confederate and union survivor now unite in amicable ceremonials. It is a notable exception where a reunion north or south is marked by one suggestion of acrimony for the other side. At the forthcoming anniversary of the decisive battle of Gettysburg blue and gray will mingle fraternally on that historic field; the federal government, and some of the states, individually, will care for both federal and confederate veterans to this historic gathering, out of which rises but one influence: The final healing of old wounds, the fresh teaching of tolerance, the noblest demonstration that the gulf is permanently bridged and that we are not northerners, southerners, easterners or westerners—but Americans!

The occasional and pathetic irreconcilable on either side is inevitable, and merely a symptom of the frailty of human nature. He is grotesquely untypical at civil war celebrations of any nature.

The thinning brigades, blue or gray, that gather on such occasions do so to celebrate traditions and principles that were lofty and sacrificial, whether the verdict from the supreme court of arms confirmed or reversed them. The southerner of today, or the vast majority, realizes that the defeat of the confederacy was, perhaps, an act of destiny and that because of the tragic lessons of that era both sides have united in a mightier and more harmonious nation than that which existed before the first shot at Sumter. But he remembers the splendid moral courage that gave all, life and birthright, to ideals; and he will ever honor it. The northerner has equal cause for paying homage to his great dead, and to those dwindling survivors of the blue. Both are celebrating the valor and the character of Americans. The fact that they do so with such absolute amity and tolerance comprises evidence of those traits of gratitude and breadth that make Americans the greatest people in the world.

HEDGE COTTON WITH CORN.

An impressive warning against the over planting of cotton is sounded in another column by E. J. Watson, commissioner of agriculture of South Carolina and president of the Southern Cotton Congress. Mr. Watson is not an alarmist. He is an expert and speaks from study and experience. He shows that the relatively high prices of the season just passed are likely to temot farmers to increase cotton acreage in the belief that the enlarged channels of absorption will sustain market quotations.

As squarely contrary to such an effect Mr. Watson declares that a record-breaking crop might be hardly short of a calamity. It might, first, glut the markets of the world with more cotton than they could normally digest, thus shattering prices; and most certainly it would place in the hands of American and foreign market manipulators the identical weapon they need to hammer the bottom out of prices.

Planting an overwhelming crop simply means that the farmer is fashioning the machinery for his own undoing. He will have chiefly himself to blame if, next fall, the house totters about his ears. Prudence now signifies the averting of this possible disaster.

Diminution of money revenues need not worry the farmer who hesitates to reduce his cotton acreage. In the first place, the prices resulting from a normal output will in all probability be far in excess of those resulting from a towering output for which there is no demand. He will get as much for a small crop and less labor as for a great crop and much labor.

Additionally, his income will be brought to and beyond its ordinary dimensions by liberal diversification. Hedge cotton with corn, with cattle, with all of the other products indigenous to the wonderful soil of the south, and for which there is a ready money market. It is economic insanity for the south to concentrate on cotton and send outside this section hundreds of millions annually for the food products that should be raised here. The one item of corn, the one item of cattle, developed even moderately, would more than wipe out the imaginary deficit from a reduced cotton yield, and all of it—from cotton and other crops—would be money unincumbered, which is a great deal more than can be said for the present debt system.

The salvation of the farmer, and that in a way of the south, is in the hands of the farmer! Keep the acreage in cultivation to the usual standard, or indeed, increase it—but shorten the cotton acreage. By hedging cotton with diversified agriculture he can, next fall and every succeeding year, make himself and the south virtually independent of any financial fluctuations in the nation-at-large. Failing so to do, he is simply inviting trouble for himself.

A GOVERNMENTAL DEFECT.

President Taft is undoubtedly sincere in regretting that he must leave so vexed a problem as the Mexican broil to President-elect Wilson, whether or not intervention comes before the change of administrations.

An Associated Press dispatch, probably officially inspired, describes him as saying that Mr. Wilson and his cabinet are likely to be embarrassed by being plunged headlong into a situation with the details of which they cannot be familiar. For two years Taft and his advisers have kept in touch with the minutia of the developments in Mexico. From close study and exhaustive information they know what to expect and what to discount.

On the other hand, however assiduously Mr. Wilson has studied the Mexican problem it is not logical to suppose that he can be informed regarding the labyrinthine intricacies of the situation. To a slight degree the condition supports the arguments of those who point with misgiving to what might happen by the shifting of administrations in grave national crises.

Mr. Wilson will, undoubtedly, measure up to the demands of the emergency; he will, we believe, safeguard this country, be fair to Mexico and exert due caution in dealing with that delicate powder-mine, the Monroe doctrine. Just the same, his task is one that few men relishing serenity of mind would envy.

BOOSTING NORTH GEORGIA.

An enterprising coterie of Atlantans have associated themselves in the productive work of promoting the development of that portion of the Blue Ridge country between Cornelia, on the Southern railway, and the Tennessee line, including the counties of Habersham and Rabun.

The field is one of the richest and, until recently, one of the most neglected in the state. When its possibilities are brought into subjection it should be the greatest apple country in the world, bringing in revenue to this state and saving the large sums Georgians now send abroad for this fruit. Its potentialities in corn culture, in truck farming and here and there timbering, are hardly yet even recognized. Isolation has heretofore thwarted development. Once the ice is broken there is no reason why advancement should not go forward by leaps and bounds. The finest climate, and scenery that matches that of Switzerland, also combine to make the Georgia Blue Ridge an ideal sumer resort section.

The stimulus of outside influences is also likely to promote road-building, one of the factors mainly needed ror the transformation of the Blue Ridge.

Mexico would be so lonesome without a "crisis" she'd have to pray for an earthquake.

With all these banquets President Taft is eating himself out of house and home.

In Mexico a president knows more about running into trouble than he does about running out of it.

Before that Pujo committee Mr. Rockefeller's affliction made him painfully silent.

Verse With Life in It.

Mr. Harrie Victor Schieren calls his beautiful, vellum-bound volume of verses "Ramblings: A Potpourri of Sense and Nonsense." A book containing poems of such grace and sure poetic touch deserved a better title. The Spirit of Nature is in them; the winds of the Wild sing through them; the joy of life is theirs. This, from "Leetle Jeem," might have been written by Dr. Drummond himself:

"He's get out dat old Veolin,
An' hit de strings lak' dis—pling, pling;
He's want I guess be puty sure
Dat she's all right for he's begin.
Right under chin he's tuck her den,
An' draw de bow across jes slow;
She's start to sing Gas Sacre souns,
Jes lak' some woman singin' low!"

In the poem, "Rangely, in Winter," we are told of "the stout hearts that beat in that rough country"—

"Rugged and true, they worship mother Nature,
Simple their life, though rough the ways they've trod;
Onward they go, still onward now, and after,
Peace, perfect peace, through Nature seeing God."

The artistic illustrations give an additional charm to the volume—those of the woods in winter, "wrapped in the mantle of the snows," and others affording fine glimpses of western landscape. It is a book with a heart in it, written out of the fulness of life, and for the sheer joy of the writing.

Reading Their Titles Clear.

"There are some folks in this settlement," says The Billville Banner, "that can't see any progress in town or country. About all that they can see is a gallon-jug of 'moonshine,' which they could find in a swamp, on a dark night, without the aid of a searchlight. About the only business they are in is that of predicting the end of the world, and they're flat failures—even at that!"

The Dream and the Deed.

By fruitful fields and singing streams, 'neath stormy skies or blue,
We're in the country of the dreams, but where the toil rings true.

The dreams but lead
To do the deed—
We see the harvest in the seed.

Loyal unto the present time, the future, beaming bright,
Still beckons to a country fair—of loveliness and light.

The Past is gone:
We journey on
To meet the dawn—to meet the dawn!

Character Cameos

By Robert V. Carr

Do you know anyone like this?

Type No. 109.—War correspondent. Age 50. Hair and close-cropped beard slightly streaked with gray. Eyes, luminous and dark brown. Complexion, color of saddle leather. Nose, straight and with great width between nostrils. A deep crease between the eyes. Eyebrows, heavy. Mouth, firm, but with friendly expression. Ears, big, but well-shaped and standing out a little from head. An alert, wiry figure of a man. Generous and careless in money matters. A lover of danger. Always taking the long chance. Lived enough stories to keep six Kiplings writing for a decade. Frank and outspoken. If he likes you, all that he possesses is yours. If he dislikes you, he will tell you so, frankly and without malice. There is no way that he can be intimidated. Strip him of funds and he merely smiles; visit upon him any misfortune, and, as long as he has a breath in his body, he will buck against it; threaten him with death, and he will laugh, for he likes that sort of business. To know him is never to forget him. To be with him for a time is to love him and trust him implicitly.

Comment—It would seem that danger develops in man the qualities that we label as noble. Yet this cannot be accepted as a positive rule, for there are brave men who are selfish, cold and cruel. But No. 109 is a brave man with a tender heart. Mere physical courage is nothing of which to boast. The wild boar has great physical courage, but is hardly a pattern for heroes. There is that higher, finer courage that transcends the mere willingness to risk the body to torture and death. It is the courage that keeps a man true to his ideals, a courage that enables him to be modest, gentle and forbearing, a courage that tolerates no subterfuge, no trickery. Such is the courage of No. 109.

New News of Yesterday

A Peggy O'Neill Story by General Thomas L. James.

By E. J. Edwards.

(Copyrighted, 1913, for The Constitution.)

This daily series of anecdotes and incidents that throw new, interesting and frequently dramatic light on famous events and personalities of the past have been collected by Mr. Edwards during near forty years of more or less intimate acquaintance with many of the country's leaders since the civil war. Each anecdote or incident is fresh from Mr. Edwards' notebook, and, either in whole or in part, it constitutes NEW NEWS OF YESTERDAY, garnered from the men who made the news—the history—or from equally authoritative sources. As important contributions of the "human interest" sort to American history, these articles have a distinctive value all their own.

E. J. Edwards.

"A year or two after I became postmaster of New York city I was informed that one of the employees of the postoffice was a grandson of the famous Peggy O'Neill, who was the wife of Major J. H. Eaton, secretary of war in President Andrew Jackson's cabinet." It was General Thomas L. James who was narrating this anecdote to me.

"An attempt was made by some of the ladies of Jackson's cabinet to ostracise Mrs. Eaton. No one ever really knew what the reason for his action was. Peggy O'Neill was the beautiful daughter of a man who kept a little hotel in Washington in the early part of the last century. It has sometimes been thought that the aristocratic ladies of the cabinet did not regard Mrs. Eaton as a social equal in view of her humble life as a girl.

"President Jackson got very angry and even threatened to remove several of his secretaries unless Mrs. Eaton was received as a social equal. Old Hickory could control men in his cabinet, but he couldn't control the wives. The result was that Jackson reorganized his cabinet.

"The Peggy O'Neill incident became a national topic, and is even remembered to this day.

"I had opportunity to do some kindness to her grandson. Shortly after that I was taken ill with typhoid fever. When convalescent I was permitted to receive an occasional visitor. I was told one day that an elderly lady had called who was anxious to see me if possible. My wife responded to the summons and in a few moments returned to my invalid chair with some excitement and said: 'Who do you think it is? It is no other than Peggy O'Neill. And I want you to see her.'

"A moment or two later there entered my room, with Mrs. James, a slender, wonderfully vivacious and bright-eyed woman who, notwithstanding her age—for she was then nearly 80—still preserved hints of her early beauty.

"She sat by me perhaps for half an hour. She said that she wanted to thank me for the kindness that I had done her grandson. I was wonderfully entertained both by the appearance and by the reminiscent conversation of this remarkable woman. I asked her if she had a comfortable income and in reply she said:

"'I have only two sources of income. One is the grandson to whom you have been so kind. He gives me a part of his monthly salary, enough to support me not very luxuriously, but comfortably. I have, however, another source of income which has always been a mystery. I don't know how long it will be maintained, but I have had it now for some ten or twelve years. I received about twelve years ago a package by express from California. I found it contained a wonderfully beautiful cashmere shawl. I have not seen anything like it since I lived in Spain, where my husband was minister from the United States. There was nothing to indicate from whom it came. There was only a line saying that it was a tribute of respect. A day or two later I received a letter from California containing nothing but a cashier's check for $100, made payable to my order. On the first of every month since that time I have received a similar check—not a thing by which I was able to identify my unknown friend. I look upon it as though it were bread cast upon the waters, representing some friendly action of mine probably years ago. Some day I will bring my cashmere shawl and show it to you and your wife.'

"A few days later she did call and brought the shawl with her. It was, as she had said, a superb specimen of the art and skill of the workers of the east who have the secret of making the cashmere shawls."

The Pope Forbids Politics.

(From the Living Church.)

The pope has taken decisive measures in regard to certain Italian newspapers, whose staffs have for some time past been aiming at a distinctly Roman Catholic political party to sit in the Italian parliament. For several reasons this would be contrary to the policy of Rome. For the attitude of the vatican is that of complete silence and abstention in all Italian political matters. The vatican ignores the quirinal. Were a distinctly Roman Catholic party active in parliament it would give the impression of representing authoritatively the views and intentions of the holy see and be tantamount to the recognition by the pope of Rome as the capital of Italy. It would also give rise to public discussions in which the pope could not fail to be involved, a state of things Piux X. would on no account tolerate. The pope forbids his clergy everywhere to take an active part in politics. They are to form religious and social associations among themselves and their people, but to keep politics at bay. Referring to this subject in one of the French dioceses, the pope says:

"Let the union be organized on a purely religious basis. Let men of all political parties without exception be loyally invited to join it. Let them unite heartily for the defense of the church and service in good works, but on no pretext whatever let questions which separate and disunite them without the union be permitted to penetrate within it and dislocate its members. . . . The wish to support certain lines of action, so natural, especially at a time like the present, when so many different political views and all-important events are in play, should it not give way, momentarily at any rate, is likely to hamper the formation and harmony of a union founded on the higher basis of religious interests."

The World's Mysteries

THE MYSTERIOUS CHEVALIER D'EON

The use of the garb of the opposite sex as a disguise has been of such frequent occurrence in history, even to the present time, that it assumes little more than passing note when a new incident occurs. Probably the most famous case in the records of history of such an incident was the case of De Chevalier D'Eon, a French nobleman who made the change frequently for political purposes and intrigues. This finally led to a lawsuit in 1777, about which Lord Mandsfield is said to have remarked:—

It made a great noise all over Europe, and it is almost inconceivable that such a case should have been brought into any court.

The Chevalier D'Eon was born at Yonne, France, in 1728. He was educated at the college of Mazarin, and on completing his studies contributed to L'Annee litterarire of Freron. At the age of twenty-five he had written some works on politics and finance, and he subsequently attracted the attention of Conti, who sent him to Russia to make good his pretensions to the crown of Poland.

D'Eon proceeded thither in 1755, and in order to encompass his ends disguised himself as a woman and entered the services of Empress Elizabeth as a reader. Having executed his commission he assumed the role of the brother of the reader whom he had personated and reappeared in Russia as secretary to the embassy.

In this capacity he showed his power and ability by exposing the treachery of Bustercheff, grand chancellor, and obtaining his dismissal and the appointment of Woronzow. As a reward for this service a pension of 2,400 livres was granted him and the title of Captain of Dragoons. In 1760 he returned to France and proved himself a brave soldier in the battles of Hoecht, Ultrop, Elmbeck, Osterwick and others. He then returned to Russia as minister plenipotentiary until the fall of Peter III.

In 1762 the Chevalier was made secretary of the embassy at London, where his fidelity and acumen gained him the confidence of the king and aroused the jealousy of the other courtiers. In the next year he was accused by the Comte de Guerchy of having attempted to poison him with opium, but the charge was not substantiated. Louis XV. bestowed upon him a pension of 12,000 livres, and England a bribe of 1,200,000 livres was offered him if he would betray certain state secrets known to him.

He remained in England until, in 1770, he desired to go back to France, when he was informed, to his surprise, that if he did so it must be in feminine attire, this being a scheme of his enemies. It was in 1777 that the strange trial occurred to decide a wager of seventy-five guineas against 300 guineas as to whether D'Eon was a man or woman.

In Cowper, Vol. II., Page 729, is the following:

This is a bona fide wager made no less than ten years ago without the slightest intention of injuring the Chevalier D'Eon. But in what manner can it affect "her." There is nothing criminal in having to assume the habit or the form and character of a man, and having fought the battles of "her" country or served it as a minister of state. "She" has imposed upon the world by assuming a character which did not belong to "her" and therefore ought not to be protected in continuing the cheat.

The result of the trial was a rule that two persons could not make a wager affecting the comfort or happiness of a third person and enforce the wager by means of a court.

The Chevalier then returned to France, and in compliance of the conditions imposed upon him once more assumed the female garb. When in 1778 he requested the government to allow him to take arms for his country and assume his rank of captain of dragoons, his only answer was to be thrown into prison at Dijon, where he remained for two months. He left France disgusted and died in England in 1810.

The wildest romancer certainly could not invent a more improbable story than that of Le Chevalier D'Eon, and yet it is history, and as the lawyers would say, of record.

Books.

By GEORGE FITCH,
Author of "At Good Old Siwash."

(Copyrighted by George Mathew Adams.)

Books are a sort of cold storage for knowledge. Because of books the world is now as wise as it was 100 years ago plus what it has learned since.

A book is an improved and perfected memory. The wise man isn't content with preaching his ideas. He sticks them into a book as fast as they are turned out, and four centuries later, when some ambitious agitator is misquoting him for revenue only, some stern critic will rise from the audience and smite him with the wise man's own words in 14-quarto volumes, $2 cash and the balance $2 a month until death do us part.

Books were once printed by hand and were very difficult to produce. This is no longer so. Nowadays books aren't even written by hand. A good, easy running modern author can keep stenographers and nine printing presses busy, and can congest a small library all by himself.

A good book with illuminated initials cost a small fortune five centuries ago. But today a best seller with a cover in four colors and a red-hot plot can be bought for $1.08 net. Books with wisdom in them come considerably higher. This is a great mistake. The books on science, philosophy and religion should be put in 50-cent editions, and the books in which the hero discovered the heroine out swimming four miles from shore and proposed to her under water between sweet and clammy kisses, ought to be sold for $5 apiece at drug stores.

It is the ambition of almost every man and woman to write a book and, thanks to the cheapness of paper and ink, this desire is being generally realized. There are now over 4,000,000 books in the world, and a strong man beginning in his youth and reading twenty-four hours a day, could not catch up in less than a thousand years. We are told on good authority, however, that if a man will read five lineal feet of books and choose them carefully he will become wise and content. Any one of a large number of books will vastly improve the mental equipment of the reader. On the other hand, by reading a few hundred overheated love stories, as they drop from the presses, a wise man could addle his brain beyond remedy.

"Some stern critic will rise from the audience and smite him with the wise man's own words."

Stern critics declare that no book should be read until it is at least ten years old. The world has gone farther than this, however. It has refused to read most great writers until their books were over 100 years old and the writers themselves had died of insufficient nourishment.

Farmers Urged to Hold Down Acreage

Columbia, S. C., February 18.—(Special.)—E. J. Watson, commissioner of agriculture of South Carolina and president of the Southern Cotton congress, has issued the following appeal to the farmers of the south with regard to cotton acreage for the opening season:

A Serious Situation.

"To the Farmers of the South: The cotton growers of the south have passed through two of the most trying years in the history of cotton. At this time last year those who have been in the forefront of the fight to maintain a living price for cotton against abnormal conditions, made possible by American and foreign market methods which as yet are permitted to exist, were bending every energy to bring about a reduction of acreage, or at least to prevent an increase of acreage. Conditions, following the huge crop of 1911, and hard work made this possible. The price on the crop just harvested was kept steady.

"A more serious situation confronts you now and hence this word of warning. With the price of the 1912 crop remaining fairly good and steady all the season through, the argument of the manipulators will be that the cotton farmer of the south will yield to temptation and do as he has done hundreds of times before—plant more acreage to cotton, on the assumption that the price will stay up. This expectation you have justified in the past and it will be used from the start. Under present laws and established methods, though the world-demand be for crops possibly larger than 14½ million bales, I want to say to you it will be suicidal to increase your acreage. It is more important to hold yourself and your acreage in check this year than ever before. To yield to the temptation of an increased price this season will be equivalent to proving yourself devoid of even common sense.

Plant Corn and Food.

"The planting season is upon us now. Stop and think for a day or two before you listen to the siren song of 13 cents. The danger to you and yours is greater by far than last year. If you must have a larger acreage on your farm, put the increase in corn and other food crops. As one who has striven to aid you in the hour of need, and has been faithful to the trust imposed in him, let me entreat you to hold your acreage down and prove to the world that you are not obliged to rush and do what every cotton broker in New York, Liverpool and elsewhere expects you to do for your own undoing and the enrichment of others.

"In this state I have endeavored to get the general assembly to enact a simple cotton statistics-gathering law that will force facts on the world when they should be there, not when it is too late; this measure, which would aid in some degree, is not yet a law. Oklahoma already has it, and your organizations have all asked for it in every cotton state.

"Again let me beg of you to watch your acreage, and let good sense instead of lack of judgment guide you in the planting of your crop this year. If you don't you will face in the fall a situation that may be the most serious you have ever faced.

"If you don't do your part now, don't say then that you were not warned.

"The fight for justice to America's greatest money crop cannot be won by a few men year after year; it must command the personal co-operation of every grower of cotton.

"E. J. WATSON,

"President Southern Cotton Congress."

DOUBLE TRACK LINE ON SOUTHERN BELT

Rapid Industrial Development in Eastern Section of City Made Move Necessary.

Industrial development in the eastern section of the city has been so great that the Southern railway has found it necessary to double track two and three-quarter miles of the "Armour Belt Line," which was the original main line of the Atlanta and Charlotte Air Line into Atlanta. The new double track extends from Decatur street to the intersection of North Boulevard and Tenth street. During the Cotton States exposition of 1895 this line was operated as double track for the use of the shuttle trains that were run to Piedmont Park from the union depot, but with the close of the exposition only one track was needed as main line and the other was used for storage purposes and to serve industries.

Recently the growth of business has been so great it was found necessary to again operate this line as double track, despite the fact that only freight trains are run over it. Both tracks have been thoroughly overhauled and new side tracks put in to serve the industries which were located on the old main line. The double track service will begin at 7 o'clock the morning on Thursday, February 20.

The necessity for double track on this line illustrates the steady industrial growth of Atlanta and especially the activity in this part of the city. The Decatur street terminals of the Southern railway, including the freight depot and team tracks and a large number of industries, are served by this line. During the cotton and fertilizer seasons from 20 to 25 freight trains per day are operated, and business at all times is heavy. The double track service will prevent the possibility of congestion with the continued growth of business, and should prove an important factor in the location of new industries in this rapidly developing section of the city.

CATCHES RUNAWAY WIFE

Rebecca Man Finds Fleeing Spouse in Albany.

Albany, Ga., February 18.—(Special.) Telegraphing ahead to Police Officer Eugene Beazley and requesting him to arrest his runaway wife, a man giving his name as J. M. Watson, of Rebecca, Ga., hurried on to Albany yesterday, and appeared at the union passenger station just after the officer had made the arrest. Another man who was with Mrs. Watson left the train on which they were about to leave town, and stood talking with her and the officer of the law. Then he disappeared.

The crowd at the depot was much interested when Watson himself arrived and began talking to his wife. He was evidently pleading with her, and tears were in his eyes. He paid not the slightest attention to the crowd standing around, but talked in a low tone of voice, as a man very much in earnest. Mrs. Watson replied in emphatic negatives, it seemed, and shook her head vigorously many times.

Later the couple were carried up town by the officer, and spent some time at the city hall. Watson declared to those with whom he talked that he still loved his wife, and would "forgive and forget" if she would agree to return home with him.

It is not known what finally became of the couple. They left the city hall together, she evidently accompanying her husband with some reluctance.

GRAIN DEALERS ATTEND HODNETT'S FUNERAL

NOONDAY SERVICES AT GRAND DRAWING SPLENDID AUDIENCES

For the first two days of the noonday Lenten services at the Grand the attendance has been excellent. Archdeacon Percy G. Webber, of Boston, who is conducting the services, caused many interesting comments Tuesday when he said that the southern men and women are the most devout in the country.

"The out-and-out American citizen I find the most devoted as a general rule," he said. "On this basis it follows that the southerner, being an American more nearly than the average inhabitant of other sections, is more nearly the true man."

Dr. Webber will conduct the services at the Grand opera house every day for the next two weeks. The services last from 12:10 till 12:40 o'clock, being attended largely by business men, as well as by a number of ladies, not only of the Episcopal church, but from many different denominations.

PLANS IMPORTANT BILLS

Wohlwender to Introduce Blue-Sky and Pistol Laws.

Columbus, Ga., February 18.—(Special)—Representative Ed Wohlwender, of Muscogee, is to introduce several bills of general interest at the next session of the Georgia legislature.

One of the measures is a blue-sky bill, prohibiting the sale of stock in mining corporations, etc., without filing with the secretary of state a schedule of assets, under oath; making quarterly reports, and keeping books open for the inspection of stockholders.

Another very important bill to be introduced by Mr. Wohlwender will make the penalty for carrying a concealed pistol a chaingang or jail sentence, the presiding judge not having the option of imposing a fine.

Another proposed bill will permit policemen and county officers to receive rewards offered by the state.

Another bill prohibits the slaughter of calves in Georgia until they reach a certain age, this measure being designed to encourage stock raising in this state.

Mr. Otto is an enthusiastic member of the United Commercial Travelers and is quite prominent in the affairs of the organization. The local council of the United Commercial Travelers is making great preparations for the approaching meeting.

OYSTERS CAUSE DEATH OF GREENVILLE MAN

Thomasville, Ga., February 18.—(Special.)—J. L. Walker, a prominent citizen of Greenville, S. C., and president of the Greenville Cotton Mills company, was found dead today in his room at the Tosco hotel here, death being from acute Bright's disease, superinduced by acute indigestion.

Mr. Walker came to Thomasville Sunday feeling sick and a doctor was called in., who found him suffering from acute indigestion caused from eating oysters Saturday night while en route here. He improved yesterday, and when the doctor visited him last night he said he felt very much better. Upon going to his room this morning the doctor found him dead in his bed.

The body will be shipped to Greenville tonight, his wife having been notified of his death. Mr. Walker was here on business connected with his mills.

"MEAT TRUST" CASES CALLED IN SAVANNAH

Savannah, Ga., February 18.—(Special.)—Before Judge Emory Speer in the United States court today the local "meat trust" cases were called for assignment. The defendants and their counsel were on hand for arraignment.

Five corporations and two individuals, who were managers of the Savannah branches at the time the anti-trust law is alleged to have been violated, were indicted. The defendant corporations are Cudahy Packing company, the Schwarzchild and Sulzberger company, Swift & Co., the Armour Packing company and Morris & Co. Emmet B. Adams, local manager for Swift & Co., and William D. Hooper, manager for Morris & Co., are also named as defendants.

The defendants are all indicted jointly. The indictment was returned in the spring of 1909, based upon section 1, of the Sherman anti-trust law. The indictment consists of two counts.

"IZZY THE PAINTER" EXPOSING ARSON TRUST

New York, February 18.—The first trial of men indicted as members of the so-called "arson trust," recently discovered in existence in this city, was begun today before Justice Goff in the supreme court. Robert J. Rubin, a Broadway fire insurance adjuster, is the first of a score or more of defendants to be brought to bar charged with second degree arson.

Isadore Stein, known as "Izzy the Painter," a convict whose confession was followed by many indictments, was the state's first witness against Rubin. "Izzy" gave a graphic narrative of how he fired buildings to enable associates, the alleged members of the "trust," to defraud fire insurance companies. After he had given his direct testimony adjournment was taken until tomorrow.

MOTHER TRIES IN VAIN TO SAVE BURNING BABE

Carnesville, Ga., February 18.—(Special.)—Despite the heroic efforts of his mother to save him, the 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hill, who live near this place, was fatally burned Sunday afternoon when his clothing caught fire at the open grate. The mother was severely burned in trying to beat out the flames from the child's clothes.

KELL POTTS WILL GO ON TRIAL FOR LIFE

Case of Slayer of Richard Harper Is Scheduled for This Morning.

After the lapse of nearly a year since he hacked to pieces Richard Harper in a house in the restricted district, last April, and was almost slashed to death himself, Kell Potts will be put on trial for his life this morning in the criminal division of the superior court.

Potts admits the killing, but claims that it was done in self-defense and now bears on his face a scar that runs nearly the length of the cheeks, inflicted by Harper's knife.

It was said at the time that the two young men, who were apparently the best of friends, became involved in a dispute after matching to see who would pay for beer. Potts claims that Harper attacked him with a knife and that he only defended himself.

The fact that, after the district was closed most of the women scattered over the country, made many people believe that the case could never be tried, but both Solicitor General H. M. Dorsey and Charles T. Hopkins, attorney for Potts, said last night that they had witnesses whom they would produce at the trial.

Potts is also represented by Attorney Reuben R. Arnold, and through his attorneys has made a demand upon the court for trial. Solicitor Dorsey stated that the case, which is on the calendar for today, would in all probability be taken up.

JOHNNY JONES IS FREED

Macon Policeman Acquitted of Charge of Murder.

Macon, Ga., February 18.—(Special.) Johnny B. Jones, the Macon policeman charged with the murder of Wiley Bishop, another policeman four year ago, was this afternoon, at 3 o'clock, acquitted of the charge. This was the third time that Jones had been tried on the same charge, the first bringing a mistrial, the second a verdict of guilty and a sentence of life imprisonment, which was set aside by the supreme court.

Tom Jones, a cousin of Johnny B. Jones, is now serving a life term for the murder of Bishop.

The murder was committed in a house in Macon's "red light" district, all three men being policemen. Bishop and Tom Jones were struggling and Johnny B. Jones shot Bishop to save his cousin's life, he claims. In the Tom Jones case the jury took the view that blows from his pistol on Bishop's head were sufficient to have produced death.

Johnny B. Jones' third trial occupied a day and a half and went to the jury about 10 o'clock this morning.

SKULL BROKEN BY BLACK

C. W. Cottledge, of Americus, Found Dying in Street.

Valdosta, Ga., February 18.—(Special.)—C. W. Cattledge, proprietor of a wood yard in this city, was found this morning lying in the center of Oak street, bloody and unconscious and with his skull fractured, the victim of an unknown assailant. After being carried to the hospital Cattledge regained consciousness long enough to say that he had been assaulted by a negro, but could not give his assailant's name.

It is understood that Cattledge had had trouble with a negro living a few miles from the city over the hauling of wood into town. They are believed to have met on the road this morning and that the negro beat Cattledge into insensibility with a bar of iron. The wounded man has small chance for recovery.

CASE OF DR. WHITEHEAD WILL GO TO JURY TODAY

Columbus, Ga., February 18.—(Special.)—Dr. W. F. Whitehead, a well-known physician, is on trial in Muscogee superior court, charged with assault to murder.

The specific charge is that he performed a criminal operation upon a young woman. The young woman in the case, Ruby Osborne, so testified. Three others were indicted with Dr. Whitehead, charged with being accessory to the facts, and one of them, Tom Pace, turned state's evidence. The case goes to the jury tomorrow.

Money for Veterans.

Thomasville, Ga., February 18.—(Special.)—Ordinary Jones has received the pension money for the old and indigent soldiers of Thomas county, the amount this year being $7,220. There are 119 receiving pensions in this county, just one less than there were last year. Quite a number have died since last year, but Judge Jones states that there are others to fill their places, with only one exception.

Dyspepsia Creates Queer Sensations

To Get Rid of that Bloated, Inflated Stomach Pressure Use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets After Eating.

Ever meet that sad-eyed man who tells you the earth is tottering on its axis? He's a dyspeptic. If he is not too far removed from advice and argument induce him to use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets for a few days. Watch the change. He will now appreciate a funny story; he will go so far as to admit that some cooks are better than others; he will even accept an invitation to a banquet.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain nothing but natural elements necessary to digestion, and when placed at work in the weak stomach and small intestines, supply what these organs need. They stimulate the gastric glands and gradually bring the digestive organs back to their normal condition.

There is no secret in the preparation of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. They are the most popular of all remedies for indigestion, dyspepsia, water brash, insomnia, loss of appetite, melancholia, constipation, dysentery and other kindred diseases, originating from improper dissolution and assimilation of foods, because they are thoroughly reliable, and harmless to man or child.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are at once a safe and a powerful remedy, they will digest your food for you when your stomach can't.

INFIRMARY PASSES INTO THE CONTROL OF BAPTIST BOARD

At the end of a five-hour session yesterday in the First Baptist church, the state mission board of the Baptist denomination voted unanimously to take into its control the Tarbernacle infirmary.

The infirmary is located on Luckie street, adjoining the Baptist Tarbernacle, and is one of the best equipped hospitals in Atlanta. It was started by Len G. Broughton as a form of institutional work of the Tabernacle while he was in charge.

Tuesday's session of the board was a called meeting for the purpose of considering the problem presented by the infirmary. It had been rumored for some time that a change in management was forthcoming. Reports on every phase of the hospital work and management were heard at the meeting. It was presided over by Dr. N. D. Drewry, of Griffin, president, and by John M. Green, of Atlanta, vice president. There were about twenty members of the board present, representing nearly every portion of the state of Georgia.

MRS. ARNOLD, SANE, TO PRESS DIVORCE CASE

Macon, Ga., February 18.—(Special.) Mrs. D. F. Arnold, who was tried yesterday on a writ of lunacy taken out by her husband in Crawford county, has been found to be of sound mind.

Mrs. Arnold was first arrested on a writ of lunacy in Bibb county, her former home, but when it was shown that she was a resident of Crawford county, the writ was dismissed by Ordinary Wiley.

Mrs. Arnold now has a suit for divorce pending in Bibb county against her husband, alleging that he has had intimate relations with his two cousins, the Misses Lilly and Helen Marshall, who made their home with the Arnolds.

At the lunacy hearing yesterday there was testimony as to Mrs. Arnold's chronic bad health, but none to show that she was insane

LOCKED IN ELECTRIC H. B. YEARGIN IS HURT

Coupe Becomes Unmanageable on Washington Street Viaduct.

Locked in an electric coupe that became unmanageable yesterday shortly before noon, Herbert B. Yeargin, a young automobilist living at the Aragon hotel, was badly cut and bruised when the machine climbed the southern walk of the Washington street viaduct, crashed into the cement embankment and turned turtle.

The coupe was being driven to the Frenchie repair shops. It was in tow of a gasoline car, to which it was connected with a stout hemp rope. As the cars sped onto the viaduct the steering gear of the electric became tangled with the tow line. The rope snapped, and the gasoline machine bounded free.

Powerless to guide the electric, which was going at a fast speed, Yeargin was unable to extricate himself before it had traveled probably a hundred yards and brought up against the embankment. He was cut from the flying glass, and bruised in the fall sustained when the car turned turtle. The machine was badly damaged.

ONE THOUSAND DINERS SEATED IN ONE HALL

This Is What the Chamber of Commerce Is Planning for Early March Date.

One thousand diners seated in a single hall—the arena of the Auditorium—should stir up a bunch of Atlanta enthusiasm bigger than any single event heretofore arranged, as the directors of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce figure it. The dinner will be at the beginning of big things which the chamber contemplates for Atlanta this year.

Its keynote will be "A greater chamber of commerce means a greater Atlanta." To that end the chamber proposes to double its membership before going into its new building, where it will be comfortably housed before the end of the year.

The chamber expects to go into its new building with 1,500 to 1,600 members, crystallized into an active working force, through which it will be able to achieve just about five times as much as under present conditions.

The dinner will take place either Tuesday, March 4, or Thursday, March 6. There will be but three or four speakers on the program, all chosen from Atlanta's ablest oratorical talent, and the big things the chamber contemplates this year will be the subjects under discussion.

LEGISLATIVE PROBE FOR GOTHAM POLICE

Albany, N. Y., February 18.—The New York state legislature today adopted unanimously a resolution providing for a searching investigation of the New York city police situation by a joint committe of five senators and six assemblymen. The committee is to report before March 20, with drafts of bills to carry its recommendations for a reform of the police department into effect.

Vested with broad powers, the joint committee will seek advice from various sources in New York with a view to drafting remedial legislation.

The committee met tonight and formally organized by electing Senator Robert F. Wagner, democratic leader of the upper house, as chairman. He was empowered to appoint a sub-committee to go to New York to confer with Mayor Gaynor, District Attorney Whitman, the aldermanic committee and others. Public hearings probably will begin there February 26 and continue during the following week. The committee does not expect to employ counsel until it is ready to draft legislation.

"The purpose of the committee," Chairman Wagner said tonight, "is not to investigate evils, but to invent legislation and to devise ways and means to abolish the evils which already have been disclosed or which may be disclosed by the investigations now being made."

ILLINOIS DEADLOCKED ON THE SENATORSHIPS

Springfield, Ill., February 18.—The vote taken today in the Illinois legislature on the long-term senatorship resulted in no choice, and showed practically no change from that recorded on the two preceding joint ballots.

Colonel James Hamilton Lewis received 87 votes—15 short of a constitutional majority. His vote today was 4 greater than on the second ballot, taken last Thursday, and 2 less than he received on the first joint ballot, taken on Wednesday.

Lawrence Y. Sherman received 70 votes, which, with 4 republicans absent, is one vote greater than the full republican strength in the two houses. This came about through 5 progressives voting for him for the long term.

Twenty-five persons received votes on the third ballot for the short term, 14 getting one vote each.

PLAN TO DISTRIBUTE RELICS OF THE MAINE

Washington, February 18.—The navy department has hit upon a new plan for the distribution to patriotic societies of relics of the battleship Maine.

Assistant Secretary Winthrop today laid before President Taft a plaster claque on which, in bas-relief, was the figure of a woman with bowed head and arm upstretched, bearing a shield with the words "Patriotism and Devotion" inscribed upon it. On the extended arm is written the word "Memoriam". Beneath the arm in bas-relief is part of the hull of the Maine as it looked after the explosion in Havana harbor.

If this design is approved probably 1,000 casts will be made from all sorts of metal recovered from the battleship and will be sent to patriotic societies which ask for Maine relics.

Congress Gets Busy.

Washington, February 18.—House leaders today began putting into effect their plans for handling the large amount of business remaining to be disposed of before March 4. Chairman Fitzgerald, of the appropriations committee, secured adoption of an order that the house meet every day at 10:30 a. m. and gave notice he would ask for late sessions every day beginning tomorrow.

MONTH OF FEBRUARY WAS ODDLY FATAL FOR GRIFFIN WOMAN

Griffin, Ga., February 18.—(Special.) Mrs. Lucy Elizabeth Reeves died Sunday afternoon and was buried in the New Salem Baptist church cemetery Monday afternoon. Mrs. Reeves was 76 years of age and leaves two sons and a large circle of friends to mourn her death.

Some remarkable coincidences occurred in the life of this aged woman. She was married in a February, her husband died during a February, she died this February, her two sons, Emmett and Dott, died in ebruary, and still she and her husband not only died in February, but both died about 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

Fighting Parson Fined.

Griffin, Ga., February 18.—(Special.) Several business men and a visiting minister were "among those present" in the police court yesterday afternoon. Rev. E. C. Cowan, of Henry county, who is visiting Griffin, was fined $5 or ten days for quarreling and fighting with L. W. McKibben, a West Griffin merchant. W. G. Norman, president of the Norman Buggy company, and G. W. Hanson, an employee, were each fined $5 on a similar charge, and William Norsworth, who struck a man named Skipper in a near beer saloon with a bottle and also hit an innocent by-stander with a beer glass, was fined $20 and then arrested on a state warrant charging assault with intent to murder.

Fight Over Fire Truck.

Griffin, Ga., February 18.—(Special.) The Griffin city council has been divided and at loggerheads for several weeks past in regard to the purchase of a combination hose and chemical fire truck for the Griffin fire department. The majority of the members recently passed a resolution requiring the mayor and clerk to sign a contract for the immediate purchase of a fire truck from the American-LaFrance Fire Engine company at a cost of $5,800, but the mayor has so far refused to sign the contract, claiming that he cannot be forced to sign a contract which would bind another council to make the final payments. The matter is to be brought up at a special session of the council at an early date.

ASSASSINS OF ARAUJO SHOT AT RACE COURSE

San Salvador, Republic of Salvador, February 18.—Three of the assassins of the president of the Republic of Salvador, Dr. Manuel E. Araujo, were shot by platoons of soldiers this morning. The shooting took place in the Campo de Marte race course while a throng looked on.

A council of war coondemned to death seven persons who had taken an active part in the crime. Four of them were arrested, but the others remain at large. One of the prisoners was allowed a respite in the expectation that he would divulge further particulars of the plot.

AMERICAN GIRL SENT TO AN ENGLISH JAIL

London, February 18.—Miss Zellie Emerson, the militant suffragette of Jackson, Mich., who is carrying on a campaign of window smashing in the east end of London in company with Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, was again arrested today. She was sentenced to a term of two months at hard labor.

Miss Emerson and her companions broke all the windows of the Liberal association's building at Bow last night.

Miss Sylvia Pankhurst was also sentenced to two months at hard labor.

8-HOUR DAY FOR WOMEN IN THE UNITED STATES

Washington, February 18.—An eight-hour work day for women workers throughout the country employed in any industrial concern engaged in interstate commerce would be provided for in a bill introduced by Senator Kenyon today. The measure also would forbid railroads engaged in interstate commerce from accepting goods from any concern violating its provisions.

Eight hours is prescribed as the maximum time for a day's work for women in the District of Columbia in a bill a senate committee today agreed to favorably report.

The two bills are included among those favored by the republican caucus, anda determined effort will be made to have them acted upon before the close of the session.

FIGHT ON NEW NICKEL LOST BY SLOT MACHINES

Washington, February 18.—Coinage of the new nickel was ordered by Secretary MacVeagh today despite objections of certain slot machine interests. It will be placed in circulation in the course of a week.

The protests against the new coin dwindled to one manufacture who claimed it would interfere with the efficacy of his machine for the detection of counterfeit nickels. Treasury officials held this was not controlling on the government and the new five-cent piece with an Indian head on the face and a buffalo on the reverse was adopted officially.

MRS. JACK LAMEY SUES FOR DIVORCE

Moving Picture Singer "Beast in Mind and Heart," She Declares.

Jack Lamey, the singer on the "movie" stage, and Jack Lamey, the husband, are quite two different beings, according to the divorce suit filed yesterday by Mrs. Lamey, who before her marriage at daybreak last summer was Miss June McEachron, widely known as a child actress and singer.

The couple were married June 21, 1912, after having spent the greater part of the night with friends at a club, they went to the bride's home, where friends sent hustling in taxicabs for a license and a justice of the peace. Both were secured and at dawn the popular pair were married.

Mrs. Lamey says in her divorce suit that immediately after the wedding she discovered she was tied to a "beast in mind and heart," and that his ideals of marriage were very different from hers. She also claims that he spends the greater part of his nights in carousals, coming home at 3 and 4 o'clock in the morning after having soaked himself with whisky.

Jack Lamey is now drawing $200 a month at a local moving picture house, according to the petition, which asks temporary and permanent alimony. John Y. Smith, attorney for Mrs. Lamey, obtained an order from Judge George L. Bell, of the superior court, setting the hearing for temporary alimony for March 3.

REUNION OF WILSONS AT THE WHITE HOUSE

Princeon, N. J., February 18.—There will be a Wilson family reunion at the white house on inauguration day, in which all the close relatives of the new president will participate. Plans for it are announced by Mrs. Woodrow Wilson.

Colonel Thomas H. Birch, personal aide to Governor Wilson, will go to Washington tomorrow to arrange details for the family party. It probably will be grouped in the presidential reviewing stand for the inaugural parade. Thirty-five people will compose the party, about twenty of whom are relatives. Members of the new cabinet and their wives probably will be added later. All will be present at the white house at luncheon just after the inauguration ceremonies.

Besides Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and her three daughters, there will be the governor's brother and sister, Joseph R. Wilson, of Nashville, Tenn., and Mrs. Annie W. Howe, of Philadelphia; Wilson Howe, of Washington, D. C., a son of Mrs. Annie W. Howe, and Mrs. Wilson Howe; George Howe, of Columbia, S. C., and Mrs. Perrin C. Cothran, son and daughter of Mrs. Annie W. Howe; Professor Stockton Axson, of Princeton university, brother of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson; John Wilson, of Franklin, Pa., a cousin of the president-elect, and Mrs. John Wilson, Mrs. Thomas W. Woodrow, of Denver, Col., aunt of Governor Wilson; Mrs. James Woodrow, of Columbia, S. MEN AND RELIGION BULLETIN NO. 45

Present Police Board, Justice And the Charter

Atlanta's Police Board stand for law.

They do justice.

They uphold decency.

Churches support Martha's Home.

Its sole object is to shelter unfortunate women until they can get upon their feet.

Its matron is a trained worker.

Sixteen helpless women were under her care.

"EVICT THE WOMEN AND LOCK THE HOUSE IF THEY ARE NOT MOVED BY THE 18TH," was the order to be given Chief Beavers, according to the daily papers.

The thoughtless shrugged their shoulders.

The thoughtful said:

"They know not what they do.

"Surely even the minority of that Board would not hound helpless women simply to harass the Chief of Police in doing his duty.

"No man on that Board would place an obstacle in the way of struggling women who need help."

Saturday night a called meting of the Police Board was held.

Mr. B. Lee Smith introduced the following resolution:

"Whereas, This Board recognizes the value of and the necessity for a work such as the Martha's Home, and the great good being done by the matron in charge thereof;

"And whereas, published reports as to the action of this Board concerning said Home have done injustice both to the Home and its matron;

"And whereas, it was never the intention of this Board to charge that Martha's Home was a disorderly house, but only to request that it be moved to a location more suitable for its purpose;

"Be is resolved, That we commend the work now being done by the Martha's Home and its matron, and the help she is giving to our city in handling a difficult problem.

"Be it further resolved, That we appreciate the difficulties in securing a suitable location for this home and the willingness of those in charge to secure one which will meet the approval of all, it being our understanding that it is the expectation of those in charge to be able to secure such a site."

MAYOR WOODWARD fought this resolution.

But in fighting it, he expressed himself as being in favor of the object of Martha's Home—the helping of those who have fallen to reform.

At first, Mr. Colcord opposed the resolution.

But in the end, MR. COLCORD voted for it.

MR. CLARK,

MR. JOHNSON and

MR. DOZIER voted against its adoption.

MR. MASON, Chairman of the Board, voted for the resolution.

So did MR. B. LEE SMITH,

MR. VERNOY,

MR. GARNER,

MR. McEACHERN,

MR. KING and

MR. COLCORD.

An injustice, whether intentional or not, had been done to women, a woman, the churches and to Atlanta.

These men wanted to undo it.

They did it.

Atlanta's name is safe in their hands.

Some who have not yet made up their minds are asking:

"Is it wise to legislate these men out of office and put one man in their place?

"Is it wise to put above the Chief of Atlanta's Police one man whose oath will obligate him to act, not according to the law as it is written, but according to his conviction as to what is best for the city?"

With the majority of Atlanta's Police Board Atlanta's ordinances and laws are safe, as is the reputation of her people.

But had one man had the power last week, the world would have been treated to the spectacle of Atlanta turning helpless women into the street and putting a slur upon an innocent one.

Men are thinking.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE MEN AND RELIGION FORWARD MOVEMENT.

MRS. REGENSTEIN PROVIDES FOR BOY

Youngster Who Tried Suicide Because He Was Failure Is Given Fine Opportunity.

The attempt of a 15-year-old country lad to end the life he considered a failure has opened a highway to the attainment of his ambition in life.

Arrangements already have been made by Mrs. Joseph Regenstein to care for LeRoy Thomas, the Norcross boy who tried to kill himself last Thursday night in a down-town drug store. Although she will not adopt the youngster, Mrs. Regenstein will provide for him until he is competent to take care of himself.

It is planned to give him a scholarship in the Georgia School of Technology, and he will live at the Regenstein home, 1165 Peachtree street.

LeRoy is now at the Grady hospital.

"Christian Index," 92 Years Old, Passes Into Hands of Big Atlanta Stock Company

After ninety-two years as a leading Baptist organ, The Christian Index has been sold by its owners and editors, Dr. B. J. W. Graham and Dr. T. P. Bell, to the Index Printing company for $30,000. Capitalized at $67,000, with a surplus of $52,000, this company has in its ranks of stockholders a large number of prominent Baptists of Atlanta. The company was organized about six years ago by Dr. Graham and Dr. Bell, and it has long been their desire to place The Christian Index on such a footing as it will now have, with its stockholders acting as an advisory board to guide the policies of the paper.

Washington, February 18.—Opening here tomorrow of headquarters by the national association opposed to woman's suffrage will mark the beginning of the most active campaign against the extension of the franchise that the association ever has undertaken. One of the first moves to be made by the association will be hearing before a congressional committee, at which it is proposed to show why the anti-suffrage movement should prevail.

Miss Minnie Bronson, general secretary of the association, reached Washington today and began outlining the situation. Mrs. Arthur M. Dodge, president of the organization, went to her home in New York today, but will return soon to take personal charge of the campaign.

A mass meeting has been planned for February 28, the day previous to one scheduled by the suffrage leaders. Mrs. Dodge said it was the intention to have women of international reputation here to address the meeting, as well as several senators and congressmen who are known to be opposed to equal suffrage.

IF HE KEEPS SQUEALING HE WILL LOSE TONGUE

New York, February 18.—If Luigi Tancredi, state's witness in the police graft investigation, does further "squealing" supplementing his testimony that was followed by the indictment of a patrolman, his tongue will be cut out, according to the threat of the two men whose identity Tancredi did not know. This information reached District Attorney Whitman today.

Newspaper clippings telling how a one-time gambler, since shot to death by an enemy, cut off the ear of an employee who "squealed" and nailed it to the wall of his resort, were shown to Tancredi by the men who said they would cut out his tongue if he gave more testimony for the state.

Tancredi, a hotel keeper, involved in his grand jury testimony Policeman Thomas Robinson, who, with Dennis Sweeney, inspector, and John J. Hartigan, detective, was indicated yesterday. Sweeney was demoted to captain today.

CHARGE OF BRIBERY WAS NOT SUSTAINED

Charleston, W. Va., February 18.—Charges against Colonel William Seymour Edwards of offering bribes to further his candidacy for United States senator fell flat today. Delegate Rhodes, who made the charges, failed to appear at a preliminary hearing. Justice of the Peace Marion Gilchrist dismissed the case after Delegate J. M. Smith, named by Rhodes as the man Edwards tried to bribe, testified that he never had discussed the senatorial situation with Colonel Edwards.

The special grand jury investigating alleged bribery in the legislature continued its inquiry today, but failed to find any more indictments. With but three more days of the regular session of the legislature there is little hope tonight of choosing a successor to United States Senator Clarence W. Watson.

FINAL DISSOLUTION OF POWDER COMBINE

Philadelphia, February 18.—The last step in the dissolution of the "powder trust" was taken here today, when the judges of the United States court of appeals approved an agreement under which the combine is divided into three separate companies. The "combination," which was known as the E. I. du Pont De Nemours company and was the holding company for twenty-seven powder concerns, was held to be illegal. The agreement ratified today ends the celebrated case. The terms of the agreement were made public several months ago.

The new powder concerns will be known as the du Pont, Hercules and Atlas companies.

MEXICAN WAR LEADS MANY GEORGIANS TO ENLIST FOR SERVICE

Mexican troubles have stirred the adventurous blood of Georgia, and enlistments in navy, army and marine corps have increased until all previous records have been broken. The chance of seeing active service is better now than ever before, say recruiting officers.

At the navy station in the Austell building Lieutenant J. L. Hileman reports that twenty-eight men were signed up for the service last week and sent from Atlanta to Norfolk for their preliminary training. This is the best week on record, but it is not unlikely that it will be surpassed, judging from the number of applications now being investigated.

Lieutenant Arthur Gallogly, of the army, said that recently the Atlanta district has jumped from fiftieth place to fourteenth, surpassing Boston, Omaha, Los Angeles, New Orleans and other larger cities in the number of men enlisted. Seventy men were sent off in January from Atlanta, and the average number since he took command is in excess of the best single month in the past ten years.

"Recently we have enlisted a very high standard of men, owing to the opportunity for active service which they see in the Mexican troubles," said Lieutenant Gallogly. "Young men of good families are enlisting, knowing that at the end of a year they can buy out of the service for $120, part of which they will have saved out of their clothing allowance."

At the marine station Sergeant Henry O. Miller said that re-enlistments had been the feature of the past two weeks, owing to the desire of former marines to get back into action, now that 2,000 have been ordered ready for immediate action. The marine corps is fifty men over the limit now but "good" men are still being received.

A Professional "Cusser" Wife Calls Her Husband In Her Suit for Divorce

That her husband threatened to "knock her two eyes into one," on one occasion, when he was "giving a demonstration of his ability as a professional 'cusser,'" is the claim made in the divorce suit filed by Mrs. Grace Winkle against her husband, George E. Winkle.

Mrs. Winkle also recites that her husband has been unfaithful to her, and that he is a regular "bird of passage," traveling around the country with a woman, whom he introduces to his friends as the second Mrs. Winkle.

The couple were married September 4, 1906, and have two young children, according to Mrs. Winkle's petition. She wants a divorce and the custody of the two children. She first stated that her husband was in Charlotte, N. C., but later informed the sheriff's office that he is staying at 158 Central avenue, in Atlanta.

PLOT AGAINST MADRIZ LAID TO TAFT AND KNOX

Washington, February 18.—Senator William Alden Smith, of Michigan, head of the senate special committee investigating Mexican and Nicaraguan affairs, today made public a copy of a letter forming part of the correspondence obtained by the committee in connection with its Nicaraguan inquiry.

The letter was written in 1910 by Crisanto Medina, Nicaraguan minister to Spain, to Madriz, then president of Nicaragua, and warned the latter of alleged efforts by President Taft and Secretary Knox to overthrow the Madriz government.

The Nicaraguan diplomat claimed to have knowledge of negotiations then going on by the American officials and S. G. Hopkins, a Washington attorney, who represented Central America governmental interests by which the United States proposed ultimately to intervene in Nicaragua to bring about a new election there.

Senator Smith would make no comment in connection with the letter. The entry of American marines into Nicaragua which brought about the present tense feeling between that country and the United States occurred in 1912.

DIRECT VOTE WANTED FOR U. S. SENATORS

Madison, Wis., February 18.—The lower branch of the Wisconsin legislature today passed a resolution ratifying the proposed amendment to the federal constitution providing for popular election of United States senators. The state senate ratified the amendment several days ago.

Salt Lake City, Utah, February 18.—The lower house of the Utah legislature today adopted a resolution ratifying the proposed amendment to the federal constitution providing for the direct election of United States senators. A similar resolution was killed in the senate several days ago.

This Home-Made Cough Syrup Will Surprise You

Stops Even Whooping Cough Quickly. A Family Supply at Small Cost.

Here is a home-made remedy that takes hold of a cough instantly, and will usually cure the most stubborn case in 24 hours. This recipe makes a pint—enough for a whole family. You couldn't buy as much or as good ready-made cough syrup for $2.50.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, and stir 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. This keeps perfectly and has a pleasant taste—children like it. Braces up the appetite and is slightly laxative, which helps end a cough.

You probably know the medical value of pine in treating asthma, bronchitis and other throat troubles, sore lungs, etc. There is nothing better. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in guaiacol and all the natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

The prompt results from this inexpensive remedy have made friends for it in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada, which explains why the plan has been imitated often, but never successfully.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.—(adv.)

Ravensworth, Va., February 18.—G. W. C. Lee, eldest son of General Robert E. Lee, former aide-de-camp on the staff of Jefferson Davis, and president emeritus of Washington and Lee university, died here today. He was 80 years old.

M. AND M. LABEL COUNT WILL CLOSE TODAY

Winners in Big Contest Will Probably Be Announced on Next Sunday.

The Constitution's M. and M. contest department is just beginning to see light once more after having been completely snowed under by the enormous labels brought on the closing day. The office force has been working like a crowd of Trojans, and in the last few days have counted hundreds of thousands of labels and other trade-marks good for votes.

All label counting, however, will be over today and on tomorrow afternoon the judges of the contest will be in the office counting the ballots to decide who are the winners. All contestants are invited to be present at the counting of the ballots.

The manager of the contest said Tuesday that he hopes to be able to announce the names of the winners in next Sunday's issue of The Constitution.

Morgan Is Improving.

New York, February 18.—J. P. Morgan continued to improve in health today, according to a cablegram sent by him from Cairo, Egypt, to his son, J. P. Morgan, Jr.

$180,300,000 IS CARRIED BY PENSION MEASURE

Washington, February 18.—The largest pension bill ever reported to congress, carrying appropriations aggregating $180,300,000, was passed by the house late today by a vote of 219 to 40, with an amendment which will make necessary an additional appropriation of more than $1,000,000.

A small number of democrats, led by Representative Roddenbery, of Georgia, made futile efforts to add amendments to bar from the pension rolls veterans having incomes exceeding $1,000 a year and not entitled to pensions on account of wounds or disability sustained in the military service.

As reported by the committee the bill contained a paragraph providing that after July 1, 1913, no pension should be paid to a non-resident not a citizen of the United States, except for actual disabilities incurred in the service. A motion by Representative Goode, of Iowa, to strike out this paragraph was carried, 154 to 112, many democrats joining with the solid republican minority in support of the motion. It is estimated that something over $1,000,000 is paid annually to veterans who would have been barred by this paragraph.

WOMEN ARE FOOTSORE AND READY TO DROP

Suffragettes Manage to Drag Themselves Into Wilmington En Route to Washington.

Wilmington, Del., February 18.—Footsore and almost ready to drop from the effects of their week's tramp, the little band of suffragettes, bound from New York to Washington, managed to drag themselves into this city today with undiminished ranks, although "Colonel" Craft, the last to arrive, has a badly injured ankle, and walked the last few miles with great difficulty. "General" Rosalie Jones, literally stumbled into this state. She tripped over a stone at the boundary line and picked herself up in Delaware.

Despite their weariness the speakers in the party conducted meetings tonight in the interest of the woman suffrage amendment to the state constitution now before the legislature. Tomorrow also will be devoted to meetings and the pilgrims all hope to have recovered sufficiently by Thursday to continue on to Newark, twelve miles nearer their destination.

Today's march from Chester was a series of ovations which ended in the city halt, where Mayor Howell extended a formal welcome.

When a girl has two sweethearts she prefers the one with the brown eyes and her mother prefers the one with the greenbacks.

SUPREME COURT STOPS MILITARY COMMISSION

Charleston, W. Va., February 18.—Operations of the military commission, working under martial law in the coal fields of Kanawha county, will be suspended at least a week, according to a statement made by Governor Glasscock late today. Habeas corpus proceedings directed against the acts of the commission and brought by miners were taken up today by the West Virginia supreme court of appeals. The state asked for sufficient time to prepare briefs, and the court set February 25 for hearing.

THE "JUST AS GOOD" KIND A FAILURE ALIKE TO BUYER AND SELLER

Miss Daisy Hight, Box 202, Perry, N. Y., in a recent letter to the Herpicide Co., says: "I have used your hair remedy, Herpicide, and prefer it to any other, but the druggists here have other hair tonics they want to sell, and it is hard to get Herpicide when I want it. One druggist got me to [illegible], but it is not as good as Herpicide. I will send it to me."

It is the same old story. The dealer in his greed for a few extra pennies induces the customer to buy something else—result—the customer loses the money and the dealer loses the customer. Whenever a dealer suggests a substitute for some standard article the safest thing to do is to walk out of the store.

Fortunately there are but few dealers like those described in Miss Hight's letter. The dealer who tries to sell you an off brand when you ask for Newbro's Herpicide thinks more of a dime than of the real good of his customer.

Insist on having Newbro's Herpicide, the first, the real, the original dandruff germ destroyer. It is put up in 50-cent and $1.00 sizes and guaranteed to stop falling hair, itching scalp and to eradicate every particle of dandruff. Your money refunded if you are not satisfied. Herpicide does what it promises to do and what you expect it to do. There is no logic in buying the "just as good" kind, when the genuine costs no more.

Upon receipt of ten cents in postage or silver the Herpicide Co., Dept. S., Detroit, Mich., will send postage paid a trial size bottle of Herpicide and a booklet on the care of the hair to any address. Sold everywhere. Applications at the better barber shops and beauty parlors. Jacobs' Pharmacy are Special Agents.

Willard Memorial Service.

A good audience was in the auditorium of the First Methodist church on Peachtree street Sunday to greet the Woman's Christian Temperance union, which every year pays tribute to the worth and lovely character of Miss Frances E. Willard, the greatest exponent of the great organization for which she gave her life. She persuaded thousands of women while she lived to engage in the fight to overthrow the liquor traffic and all its attendant evils. Those women are all busy carrying on the work mapped out for them by a master mind. They do not build statues of marble or brass, but collect a fund once a year at the memorial service to add to the organization fund, believing it would be her wish for them to do so. A liberal contribution was made for this purpose on Sunday and proved that the people had not forgotten one whom they loved and honored and they delighted in this way to testify to their appreciation of the good work the organization has accomplished for Georgia.

Among those taking part in the program was Mrs. T. L. Reiley, who has for eighteen years been recording secretary of the Frances E. Willard Temperance hospital, where alcohol is not used. She is one of the W. C. T. U.'s district presidents of Illinois and was a devoted friend of Frances Willard. "A Southern Incident" was culled from Miss Willard's writings and was beautifully rendered by Miss Aldred. Julian Johnston told "what sort of a man" Miss Willard wanted all men to be—free from the taint of the poison alcohol. The next service will be held next February in another part of the city.

Informal Dinner Party.

Rev. and Mrs. N. B. O'Kelley entertained a few friends among the ministry at dinner last evening at their home on Ponce de Leon avenue in celebration of the tenth innniversary of their marriage.

The centerpiece of the table was a pretty arrangement of Killarney roses and all of the decorative details were in white and pink. Mrs. O'Kelley wore a white lace gown over white satin charmeuse.

For Miss Drenan.

Mrs. E. L. Wight, Jr., entertained at a pretty luncheon Monday at the Georgian Terrace in compliment to Miss Margaret Drenan, of Cincinnati, the guest of Mrs. Harold Gallup.

The party was entertained afterwards at the matinee at the Grand.

Yesterday Miss Willie Bivings gave an enjoyable card party of three tables for Miss Drenan.

The decorations were of red carnations and the prizes were a silver picture frame and silk stockings.

To Miss Munn.

Mrs. Henry Porter's afternoon tea yesterday was a happy expression of hospitality, assembling twelve guests to meet Miss Munn, of Lowell, Mass., the guest of Mrs. Jack Stewart.

A French basket of jonquils decorated the tea table, and there was a pretty arrangement of spring flowers in the reception rooms.

An interesting event of Tuesday was the marriage of Miss Ruth Spence and Mr. J. D. McClarty. The ceremony was performed by Rev. James F. Edens, Jr., uncle of the bride, at her residence, 389 Woodward avenue.

The bride is a charming young lady and numbers her friends by her acquaintances. Mr. McClarty is favorably known among a large circle of friends and holds a responsible position with a large corporation.

Mr. and Mrs. McClarty will be at home to their friends after March 1 at 39 East Tenth street.

RUTHERFORD-HAWKINS.

Americus, Ga., February 18.—(Special.)—The marriage at noon today of Miss Willie Rutherford and Colonel Eugene Alston Hawkins, while quietly solemnized, was an occasion of much social interest in Americus, where both have long resided. With a few friends the couple drove to Calvary Episcopal church, where the ceremony was performed, leaving immediately thereafter for Florida. The bride is one of Americus' cultured young women and of engaging personality. Colonel Hawkins is president of the Americus Bar association and was for many years mayor of Americus.

SHE CUTS OFF SCIONS OF HER DECEASED SON

St. Louis, February 18.—The will of Mrs. Lucretia E. Hopkins, of New York city, wife of James Hopkins, of the Diamond Match company, filed in St. Louis today, specifically cuts off from inheriting any part of the estate any descendant of her deceased son, James B. Hopkins.

Mrs. Hopkins died in Augusta, Ga., February 13. The son was married in Clayton, a suburb of St. Louis, to Miss Ida B. Kelly, of this city. The wedding, which took place in 1906, displeased the family. He died in Colorado Springs in July, 1908.

For Equal Suffrage.

Jefferson City, Mo., February 18.—The Missouri senate today sent to engrossment, by a vote of 19 to 7, the bill giving women the right to vote. The senate defeated a proposed constitutional amendment containing a "grandfather clause," and prescribing the payment of a poll tax as a qualification for voting.

Mr. Rockefeller was accompanied by his personal physician, private secretary and a number of servants. The oil magnate announced that he expects to devote his time to fishing and golf while here.

THEATERS

Dustin Farnum in "The Littlest Rebel."

(At the Atlanta.)

"The Littlest Rebel," the play in which that sterling actor, Dustin Farnum, appears at the Atlanta theater for three nights and Wednesday matinee, beginning next Monday, is said to be the very best of the plays that have for their foundation the war between the north and the south. Seats go on sale tomorrow. It is remarkably strong from a dramatic standpoint and holds the interest of the auditor from beginning to end, keeping him on the tiptoe of expectation and doubt. A remarkable feature of the play is that while it is a faithful picture of scenes of the war, it can in no way offend.

As Colonel Morrison, Mr. Farnum has a role greatly to his liking, full of action, vigor and fine sentiments. Among Mr. Farnum's support are Zenaide Williams, George Thatcher, Alexis Luce, Morris Burr, Mistress Mary Miles Minter and others of equal importance.

"Bunty Pulls the Strings."

(At the Atlanta.)

That most delightful of Scotch comedies, "Bunty Pulls the Strings," will be given at a matinee this afternoon, and tonight the engagement at the Atlanta will end. The company playing Bunty here is pronounced perfect in every detail and the play is given with as much charm as when produced in New York. Certainly it is unique and pleasing to the utmost degree.

Blanche Ring.

(At the Atlanta.)

Seats are now selling at the Atlanta for the engagement of Blanche Ring Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Miss Ring will present her big success, "The Wall Street Girl," during her stay. This play has all the charm of last season, with a company that is perfect. The most beautiful girls on the road are with Miss Ring and they make the show one of charm to the eye. Will Rogers, the cowboy, is especially engaged and is a big hit.

"The Thief."

(At the Lyric.)

"The Thief," Henry Bernstein's famous play, is being most capably presented this week at the Lyric. Miss Marion Sherwood portrays the role of the weak wife in a delightful manner, and she is supported by a company of exceptional merit. Interest is manifested in the engagement on account of the first local appearance of Harry D. Kline, an old Atlanta boy. The performance is worthy of Atlanta's best patronage. The production as a whole ranks with the best dramatic offerings of the season. "The Thief" will doubtless draw good audiences the entire week at the Lyric. There will be the usual matinees on Thursday and Saturday.

FIRST WEEK OF APRIL FOR EXTRA SESSION

Washington, February 18.—The report was current among democratic leaders in the house today that the extra session of congress would be called to convene in the first week of April. The committee on ways and means at work on the tariff is proceeding on the principle that it cannot take binding action as a committee until its personnel is completed as a committee of the incoming congress and the question of a democratic caucus earlier than that has been contemplated, is being considered.

It will be decided soon whether the democrats of the next congress shall caucus immediately after the 4th of March or just before the convening of the extra session.

Meantime the committee has distributed its detail work scientifically so that Democratic Leader Underwood and other leaders who are on the committee may spend more of their time on the floor of the house.

Explosion On Battleship.

Toulon, France, February 18.—Two French naval gunners were killed and a number of others severely wounded by the explosion of a gun on board the dreadnought Danton during target practice in the roadsted in the Salines D'Hyeres. The Danton put into this port today to transfer the wounded men to a hospital.

To Get Rid of Wrinkles and Bad Complexions

(From Beauty's Mirror.)

It is more important now than during the period of profuse perspiration, to keep the pores clean. All cosmetics clog the pores. In winter this interferes greatly with elimination of waste material, injuring instead of aiding the complexion. Ordinary mercolized wax serves all the purposes of creams, powders and rouges, giving far better results. It actually peels off an offensive skin, at the same time unclogging the pores. Minute particles of scarf skin come off day by day, causing not the least pain or discomfort. Gradually the healthy, younger skin beneath peeps out, and in less than a fortnight you have a lovelier complexion than you ever dreamed of acquiring. Mercolized wax, obtainable at any drug store, is spread on nightly like cold cream and washed off mornings. One ounce usually suffices.

For removing wrinkles, without stopping the pores with pasty stuff, here's a never-failing formula: 1 oz. powdered saxolite, dissolved in 1-2 pint witch hazel. Bathe the face in this daily for awhile; every line will vanish completely. Even the first application gives surprising results.

Eufaula Road Abandoned.

Eufaula, Ala., February 18.—(Special.)—On account of inability to interest a trunk line railroad in an extension from Eufaula, the stockholders of the Eufaula and Chattahoochee Valley Railroad company, at a called meeting today, decided to take proceedings to dissolve the corporation. This action comes as a matter of general regret to the people of this entire section, who have taken much interest in the movement for a new railroad that was started about eighteen months ago.

ALMOST LOST HER REASON

But Thanks To An Old Friend, This Terrible Catastrophe Was Avoided.

Tampa, Fla.—Mrs. E. C. Coram, of No. 2905 Highland Ave., says: "I was very weak and worn out from womanly troubles. My husband bought me two bottles of Cardui to take as a tonic, and from the first day it seemed to me I felt its good effects.

By the time I had used the two bottles, I felt and looked like a new woman.

Some time later I got my feet wet at the wrong time, and I turned to Cardui to remedy the mischief done.

Before I had taken one bottle it gave me the needed relief.

Again, in later life, when passing over a critical time, I almost lost my reason, but thanks to three or four bottles of Cardui, I did not. That has been 15 years ago. I am now 59 years of age, and feeling fine.

I constantly praise Cardui to all my sick friends.

It is a wonderful remedy."

This earnest letter should take from your mind any doubt you might have as to the merits of Cardui, the woman's tonic. Mrs. Coram is certainly competent to recommend Cardui, since it helped her over three critical stages of life.

DONALD HARPER, EX-GEORGIAN IS KNIGHTED BY POINCARE

The knighting of Donald Harper, a native of Rome, Ga., and a man well-known throughout the state, was one of the first official acts of Raymond Poincare after he assumed the presidency of France yesterday, according to information received here by cablegram. Mr. Harper was made a chevalier of the Legion of Honor because of services rendered as an international lawyer in matters of vast importance between France and America.

The honor received by the eminent Georgian, the highest that the French ministry can bestow, was conferred upon him by President Poincare. The order of the Legion d'Honour was originated in 1802 by the great Napoleon as a recompense for bravery on the battlefield and for distinguished services rendered by those in civil life. To be knighted by the present ministry is held an especial mark of distinction on account of the high character of the men now holding the reins of power in France.

The Georgia friends and relatives of Mr. Harper will read of the honors conferred upon him with greatest interest. He went to Paris in 1894, where he now has perhaps the largest and most lucrative practice of any international lawyer. He married Mlle. Jean Bernard and has four children. He will proobably spend the rest of his life in France, although he expects to educate his two sons in the United States.

DONALD HARPER,
Formerly of Rome, Ga., who on Tuesday was made a knight of the Legion of Honor by President Poincare of France.

He is a brother of Charles C. and Miss Joy Harper, of Rome, Ga.; C. A. Harper, of Tampa, Fla., and Houston R. Harper, of Chattanooga, Tenn.

5,700 PENNIES SENT AS MONTH'S RECEIPTS

Why a postmaster in a little office in the southern part of the state should send his monthly remittance in pennies, heaving at the heads of unwilling clerks some 5,750 coppers to be counted, is something that has staggered the local postoffice folks, from Postmaster Hugh L. McKee down to Uncle Dan, the janitor.

And, furthermore, in his letter which announced the coming of the mountain of pennies, the south Georgia postmaster stated that there were 5,800 Lincolns and Indian heads, and that their total weight was thirty-eight and a quarter pounds.

After a small army of clerks had counted the small coin and found it was just $1 short, Postmaster McKee notified the sender that he would have to send the shortage in at once, and the postmaster did not suggest that he needed any more pennies, either.

WOMAN SWEARS BOYCE WANTED TO KILL SNEED

Vernon, Texas, February 18.—Fifteen witnesses gave testimony for the defense today in the trial of John B. Sneed, accused of killing Al G. Boyce, Jr. The evidence had to do principally with the alleged relations between Mrs. Sneed and the young cattleman her husband is charged with having shot to death.

One witness, Mrs. L. A. Rogers, of Dallas, who occupied an apartment in the same house as the Sneeds, declared she had read a letter signed by Boyce and addressed to Mrs. Sneed in which a plot to assassinate Sneed and thereby "liberate" his wife and children was outlined.

The defense put into evidence the written transcript of testimony of the negro porter on the train that carried Boyce and Mrs. Sneed away from Fort Worth in November, 1911. Boyce at that time eloped with Mrs. Sneed.

Testimony of nine defense witnesses was given as tending to show that Al Boyce was staying in Fort Worth and Dallas last summer while Mrs. Sneed was in Dallas and was planning to elope with her a second time.

Sneed will testify in his own behalf tomorrow.

IN A NERVOUS FRENZY SHE LEAPS TO DEATH

Philadelphia, February 18.—Her mind deranged by a nervous disorder, Mrs. R. W. Winston, said to be a member of one of the most prominent families in North Carolina, eluded her nurse today, plunged from a window on the seventh floor of a hospital here and was instantly killed. Mrs. Winston has been suffering from nervousness for more than a year and had been under treatment at the local institution since early in January. Her home was in Raleigh.

RODDENBERY FIGHTS BIG NAVAL MEASURE

Seeks to Delay Action by Filibuster—Howard Denounces Grabs in Pension Bill.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, February 18.—(Special.) Representative Roddenbery, of Georgia, led in the fight against the naval appropriation bill in the house today and began a filibuster to defeat this measure and throw it over into the extra session.

The bill carries $150,000,000, and its supporters put up a vigorous fight, taunting the Georgian with having helped to put through the public buildings "pork barrel" bill on yesterday, carrying $26,000,000, without straining his conscience.

Concentrating his attention on the sundry civil bill, and insisting that the bill be read in full and thus consume several hours, Mr. Roddenbery sought to delay action on the naval bill. He opposed the request of Representative Fitzgerald, of New York, who wanted to limit general debate to two and a half hours.

Another fight was made by Mr. Roddenbery today to prevent the adoption of an amendment to the pension bill, which will add $967,000 annually to the pension list. This was accomplished by striking out a provision that no pensions shall be paid to persons living outside of the United States. The vote was 154 to 112 for the amendment to strike. Already the house has passed an omnibus pension bill carrying $180,000,000.

Representative Howard came to the support of his colleague, in his forlorn fight, and said the pension rolls were filled with inequalities, and injustice even to worthy veterans who wore the blue and received wounds in that service.

"I have been raised in an atmosphere not of hate or distrust, but of admiration, for the adversaries of my father on the battlefield of the civil war. I love the union soldier who was a brave and fearless man just as much as I love anybody else," said Mr. Howard.

"General Sherman's headquarters were part of the time in my father's house near Atlanta. Major General George B. McPherson was laid out after his death in the front room of my father's house, and I never heard from my father's lips one disparaging word uttered against the brave men who fought on the side of the union, and never a word of protest until the days of reconstruction became such that nobody could stand them."

Continuing, Mr. Howard said that the government today was spending $409,000,000 for wars past and to come, and he thought it was time to call a halt on extravagant pensions to the widows and children of soldiers, many of whom were married long after the war.

SOURCE OF BAD ODORS WILL BE SOUGHT TODAY

Sewer Committee Invites Chairman of Sanitary Affairs to Join Investigation.

The sewer committee will investigate today the charge that sewage in Peachtree creek has polluted the waters and that the nauseous odors are driving Peachtree road residents from their homes.

Chairman J. H. Harwell, of the sewer committee, said Tuesday that he had urged the investigation, to determine if the city is responsible for the nuisance. He said he would also ask the committee to visit the $195,000 Peachtree creek and Intrenchment creek sewage plants, which Chester A. Dady, the contractor, is under a bond of $176,000 to finish on June 15, 1913.

Will Ask Ashley to Join.

The committee will ask Chairman Claude L. Ashley, of the sanitary affairs committee, to join the sewer committee. The resolution offered by Alderman James R. Nutting urging an investigation to determine the source of the odor nuisance was referred to the sanitary affairs committee, and Councilman Ashley says he was preparing to call the committee together to make an investigation on its own hook.

The sewer committee will leave the city hall at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. Chief Clayton, of the construction department, will take the committee to the creek. He also wants the committee to visit the fertilizer factory at Armour, Ga., which is just about a mile from Peachtree road.

Chief Clayton again declared on Tuesday that the nuisance complained about by the residents of Peachtree road was not caused by the flow of sewage through the creek, and he is rather inclined to believe that the odors are carried in the atmosphere rather than through wastes emptied into the creek at the fertilizer plant.

What Power Has the City.

There is a difference of opinion as to the powers of the city to abate a matter affecting the health of the city whether the source of the nuisance be located in the limits or outside. Judge John S. Candler says he is of the opinion that the city would not have jurisdiction in the event the odors are located at the fertilizer plant.

Chairman Ashley says he is of the opinion the board of health has authority to invoke the aid of the courts in abating a nuisance that is proven to be a detriment to the health or comfort of the citizens. He declared that if the investigation reveals that the fertilizer plant is responsible for the nuisance he will ask the board of health to adopt a resolution urging City Attorney James L. Mayson to apply for an injunction to stop it.

Reports from the city construction department Tuesday were to the effect that Contractor Dady had assured Captain Clayton that he was doing his level best to make contracts for enough stone to finish the plants on time. Assistant Engineer W. A. Hansell, Jr., who has charge of the construction work at the Peachtree and Intrenchment creek plants, said Tuesday that he was informed that Contractor Dady had signed a contract with the Wilkins crusher, at Summerville, Ga., to supply him with six carloads of stone a day.

Can Make Other Arrangements.

"If Dady can make a contract with one crusher for that amount of stone it appears logical that he can make the same sort of arrangements with other quarries," Engineer Hansell said.

Six carloads from one quarry will aid Dady to a great extent. He has been getting only six carloads a week on the average, and under his new contract, if it is carried out, he will be able to make a better showing.

The sewer committee and the bond commission are going to demand a show-down from Dady if he appears and asks for an extension. Chairman Harwell has stated that he will only acquiesce in an extension after it has been proven to the satisfaction of the entire committee and bond commission that it has been absolutely impossible to get the stone required for finishing the contract, and on further proof that Dady has been diligent since December in his efforts to get contracts for all the stone he requires.

Chief Clayton has instructed his inspector at the Peachtree plant to report daily on the progress of the work, and unless a good showing is made he will certify to the bond commission and sewer committee that Dady is not making satisfactory progress and ask that the city be allowed to finish the plants.

It will then be up to the city to collect the difference and damages from the bond company.

$2,000 JEWELRY LOST BY MRS. GREENFIELD ON A SHOPPING TRIP

While walking through uptown on a shopping trip yesterday afternoon, Mrs. J. B. Greenfield, of 62 Washington terrace, lost a chamois bag containing jewelry valued at more than $2,000, which included two Tiffany diamond solitaire rings, one scarfpin set with diamonds and pearls, one Scottish Rite ring and a valuable LaVailiere pendant.

The loss has been reported to the police, but up until late last night none of the valuables had been recovered.

LONG-LOST BROTHER TRAILED BY ACCIDENT

Searching for his brother, lost for eight years, J. E. Haas, of Union, S. C., believes that he is at last on the right track through reading in The Constitution of an automobile accident here, but a bare three days' between the receipt of his letter by Chief Beavers and the discharge of the injured man from Grady hospital may make the search futile after all.

The name of the missing man is Stephen Haas and he left South Caroline for Atlanta eight years ago, disappearing completely. The description of the man injured by the automobile coincides with his description. The peculiar coincidence of the case is that the patient told the hospital that his name was Haas, but he was unable to remember his initials, owing to his injury. He was discharged several days ago.

FARMER BILL'S DOG, LUTIE, WORTH $250, STRANGELY MISSING

The entire police force have puckered their mouths into a whistle, carefully scanning the stray doggies which they once kicked, in the effort to locate a $250 3-months-old, brown-haired, speckled about the nose, tan-leg pup. The disappearance, perhaps kidnaping, was discovered yesterday by Mrs. M. N. Bodenbach, 14 Waverly place, who was keeping "Lutie" for "Farmer Bill" Zimmer, who is game warden for Fulton county.

"Lutie" is the name which brings the dog of pedigree to breakfast each morning. Tuesday she failed to respond, and an effort to search the doghouse was fruitless. The doghouse was gone like the dog, which makes the owners believe that someone has stolen Lutie, knowing her value. She is of Mexican breed, and a registered dog.

CAMPBELL IS ARRESTED CHARGED WITH BIGAMY

C. Eugene Campbell, a well-known railroad man of Columbia, S. C., was arrested yesterday morning by Detectives on a warrant from his home city charging bigamy. He was boarding in a suburban home with 19-year-old Emma Small, a Columbia student, whom he is said to have married only a week or so ago in the Carolina capital.

Sheriff Carter, of Columbia, arrived in Atlanta last night. He will return with Campbell some time today. The Small girl's father is also here, and will carry his daughter back at the same time.

Campbell is 43 years old. Columbia authorities allege that he has a wife in Columbia, to whom he had been married for twenty-two years, and that he has three children, one of whom is a youth 21 years old. He would make no statement regarding the arrest.

PACKING HOUSE CASES BEFORE JUDGE SPEER

Savannah, Ga., February 18.—Federal Judge Emory Speer today designated Saturday for presentation of arguments upon demurrers filed today in the government's suits against five meat packing concerns for alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust laws.

In the demurrers the contention is raised that the South Atlantic Packing and Provision company, upon whose complaint the indictments were returned, did an intrastate business only and that there was, therefore, no violation of interstate provisions of the Sherman law.

The demurrers also contend that all five defendants were in competition with each other at the time the alleged combination is said to have existed, and that such an agreement as charged could not have existed.

It is the contention of United States District Attorney Alex Akerman that the packing houses not only conspired to regulate prices in this section, but that they entered into an agreement to stifle competition, resulting in putting the South Atlantic Packing and Provision company out of business. The companies under indictment are Swift & Co., Armour & Co., Morris & Co., Cudahy & Co. and Schwarzschild & Sulzberger.

RAILWAYS YIELD TO THEIR FIREMEN

New York, February 18.—There will be no firemen's strike on the eastern railroads. The railroads yielded today and agreed to arbitrate under the Erdman act the controversy with the Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

The firemen had stood, to a man, for this method of arbitration ever since the deadlock began; the railroads had stood firm for arbitration before a commission of six or seven men.

Three men, acting under the law, will decide the firemen's claims. Their decision will be binding.

The firemen selected as their representative Albert Phillips, of Sacramento, Cal., vice president of their organization. The railroads selected W. W. Atterbury, vice president and general manager of the Pennsylvania lines east.

Within a day or two these men will select the third or neutral member. Within thirty days thereafter the arbitrators must render their findings.

Throughout the mediation proceedings the railroads' managers bitterly opposed arbitration under the Erdman act on the ground it was unfair to place so much responsibility on the shoulders of the odd man on the board. They vehemently reiterated this protest in giving ground today and declared that their only reason for yielding was that the public would not tolerate a strike.

The firemen themselves admit the defects of the Erdman act, and while the present dispute will be settled under the existing law, afterwards the firemen's president, W. S. Carter, will meet with the heads of other railway organizations and representatives of the railroads to request congress to amend the law in certain respects.

The decision of the roads was announced shortly before 10 o'clock this morning in an official statement issued by Elisha Lee as chairman of the conference committee of managers. "The managers feel," says the statement, "that the public will not tolerate a st[illegible]

SENATE OVERRIDES IMMIGRATION VETO

Burnett-Dillingam Bill Is Repassed Despite the Protest of the President.

Washington, February 18.—The Burnett-Dillingham immigration bill, vetoed by President Taft because it imposed the literacy test upon immigrants, was passed over the president's veto in the senate today by a vote of 72 to 18. The overwhelming majority given at the end of a short debate, in which President Taft's attitude was vigorously attacked, has strengthened the probability that the bill will be passed over the veto in the house when it is called up tomorrow.

Support of the president's position was voiced by only a few senators during the debate. Senators Lodge and Dillingham, leading the fight to override the president, declared the measure contained so many important provisions for the exclusion of criminal, diseased and insane aliens that great harm would result to the United States if it did not become law.

UNTERMYER DEFENDED IN ROCKEFELLER CASE

Washington, February 18.—A lengthy statement defending the course of Samuel Untermyer in his examination of William Rockefeller for the house money trust committee, was issued here tonight by Representative Pujo, chairman of the committee. Mr. Pujo, after reviewing the long chase of the house process servers after Mr. Rockefeller, declared that both he and Mr. Untermyer were opposed to examining Mr. Rockefeller after he had been examined by Dr. C. W. Richardson, the committee expert. The examination was made, he said, because the committee ordered it.

"Mr. Rockefeller, Mr. Garver and Mr. Chappelle, I am sure, appreciate the spirit and manner in which the proceedings were conducted. The press has seen fit to bitterly attack Mr. Untermyer, charging him with the 'pursuit' of Mr. Rockefeller. This is unjust and unfair to Mr. Untermyer," said the statement.

Chairman Pujo today called a meeting of the money trust committee for next Monday, when a large quantity of statistical evidence, summarizing the testimony of the various witnesses, will be placed in the record. The committee will take up the consideration of its report Tuesday.

AUTI-JUG TRAIN BILL GOES TO WICKERSHAM

Washington, February 18.—President Taft today referred the Webb bill regulating the shipment of liquor into dry states to Attorney General Wickersham and Secretary MacVeagh.

This was taken to indicate that the president wanted an opinion on its constitutionality. He has told visitors recently that he expected to give the bill much consideration.

Much concern was caused among the advocates of the measure when it was learned that the president had sent for a copy of Senator Root's speech attacking the bill on constitutional grounds.

Letters and telegrams both for and against the bill have been pouring in from many sources.

William T. Petty.

William T. Petty, 49 years old, died Tuesday morning at 1 o'clock at the residence, 3 Tumlin street. The funeral will be held this morning at 10 o'clock from Patterson's chapel, with interment in Antioch churchyard, Rev. George B. Stone to officiate. Surviving are a wife and two children and three brothers, John, Charlie and Oscar Petty, all of Atlanta.

MONEY BY TELEGRAPH SENT CHEAPER SOON

Tolls Substantially Reduced for Quick "Touches" on the Home Folks.

Rates for the transfer of money by telegraph throughout the United States and Canada will be reduced by the Western Union Telegraph company March 1, 1913, subject to approval by commissioners.

The design of the new rates is to cheapen, particularly the charges for transfer of small sums of money. A tabulation of the business for 1912 shows that the average amount remitted in a telegraph transfer was about $47. Nearly two-thirds of the entire number of transfers were for sums of $25 or less, while 94 per cent of the total transfers involved were for $100 or less.

Charges for the transfer of money by telegraph are made up of two factors. One is the premium, the other is the telegraph tolls. The premium is a varying percentage on the amount of money transferred to cover insurance and banking costs. The tolls are for the necessary telegraph messages involved in the transaction.

The scehdule, to become effective March 1, changes both of these charges, so that the new rates will be as follows:

Premiums.

For a transfer of over $25 and not exceeding $50, 35 cents.

For a transfer of over $50 and not exceeding $75, 60 cents.

For each additional $100 or fraction thereof up to and including $3,000, 25 cents.

For each additional $100 or fraction thereof over $3,000, 20 cents.

Telegraph Tolls.

In addition to the premium there will be a charge for telegraph service equal to the price of one 15-word day message from the office of deposit to the office of payment.

No change is made in the current rates for money transfer by cable to foreign countries, or to Mexico. Only the United States and Canada are included in the new schedule.

PYTHIAN LODGE UPHELD BY COURT DECISION

Indianapolis, Ind., February 18.—The board of control of the supreme lodge of the Knights of Pythias acted within its power when in 1907 it established a fifth class of insurance, using money from the fund of the fourth class for the purpose, held Edward Daniels, master in chancery, in an opinion rendered here today. The decision was in the case of Fritz Heimsoth, representing the policy holders in the fourth class who asked the court to grant a mandate forcing the lodge officials to repay more than $800,000 from the general fund to the mortuary fund of the fourth class, and also to maintain a separate expense account for that division.

Mr. Daniels found that in 1907 when the fifth class of insurance was organized on old line plans the fourth division rates had been found insufficient. He held that the action of the board of control was best for the policy holders in that all fourth class policy holders not wishing to enter the fifth division were provided for.

The opinion ends a six-years' controversy in the lodge ranks.

1,400 PRESBYTERIANS GATHER IN MEMPHIS

Memphis, Tenn., February 18.—Fourteen hundred delegates from all parts of the south attended the opening session this afternoon of the third convention of the laymen's missionary movement of the Southern Presbyterian church, which was organized with the selection of Charles A. Rowland, of Athens, Ga., chairman. The convention will be in session three days. Delegates continued to arrive tonight and it is anticipated that more than two thousand will be in attendance tomorrow, including two hundred theological students.

The delegates were welcomed by Rev. A. D. Curry, of Memphis. Rev. W. J. Martin, Davidson, N. C., president of Davidson college, responded. Incidentally Mr. Martin discussed the problem afforded by the negro and declared it open to solution by two means, the bullet and the Bible.

"The latter is manifestly the only way," he said, "but more must be done in the future than in the past."

Rev. John Little, of Louisville, superintendent of Presbyterian negro missions in that city, told of the missionary work of the church among members of that race, and Rev. Reuben L. Breed, of New York city, described how the incoming millions arrive at Ellis Island. Rev. J. S. Lyon, of Louisville, and Rev. W. E. Hudson, of Winchester, Ky., also spoke today.

U. S. MACHINE GUN STOLEN BY REBELS

Mexicans Cross the Border and Take Gun From Platoon of the Thirteenth Cavalry.

El Paso, Texas, February 18.—A machine gun of the Thirteenth cavalry platoon at Hachita, N. M., disappeared Sunday night, according to reliable reports received here today. It is believed that Mexican rebels came over the border and stole the piece.

Major Clark, district adjutant at Fort Bliss, said no report of the theft has been made. However, the disappearance of the gun and also of considerable ammunition was fully verified.

United States troops since Monday morning, when the piece was missed, have been searching the border for a trace of the missing artillery. Hachita is nearly twenty miles from the border and how the gun was stolen is unexplained.

Several days ago General Inez Salazar, the rebel commander-in-chief, boasted that some of his men would steal a machine gun from United States troops.

Rebels evaded the border patrol near Columbus, N. M., this week and imported 1,800 suits of khaki uniforms and an equal number of pairs of shoes for Salazar's rebel army.

LITTLE CHILD SAVED FROM FEARFUL DEATH

Was for Several Years Victim of Horrible Parasite and Is Rescued By the Famous Quaker Herb Extract.

At No. 53 Mayson and Turner road lives the family of W. A. Osborn. Little Eldred, he is 11 years of age and has a loving disposition, admired by all who know him. He had been a sufferer from stomach troubles for over five years, at least that's what he had been treated for by various specialists, in this city and Macon, his former home. His appetite was very changeable, but mostly ravenous. He had an intense pain in the stomach and bowels, and a dizziness would attack him often. Headaches and nausea were also frequent. He was listless and dull and would not play as other children would. He was getting weak and thin and nothing that was given in the way of medicines would do any good at all. Then about four years ago, the parents became convinced that their dear boy was the victim of a horrible parasite, and this knowledge almost drove them frantic. The child was treated three times unsuccessfully for the trouble, but still he suffered. The parents had almost given up all hope of his ever being cured, when the Health Teacher came to Atlanta. The grand work that he was doing with the Quaker Remedies came to the attention of Mrs. Osborn, who called at Coursey & Munn's drug store. He recommended Quaker Extract, telling her that it had expelled over 4,000 tapeworms in his experience. She procured a treatment and immediately began giving it to the boy. What was the result? In six days after beginning its use, he was seized with a little dizziness, after which he expelled a nasty, old tapeworm, 35 feet long, head and all, complete. He had then and there gotten rid of the entire cause of all his stomach trouble. He has already gained four pounds in about ten days, and is well and hearty. Think of it, you mothers and fathers who have little children suffering day after day with their little stomachs—why not allow the famous Quaker Extract to do for you what it has done for many thousands in the past 40 years? Worms of various kinds cause more than 32 per cent of all stomach troubles in children of fifteen years and less. Get a reliable remedy, that has been successful already, and put your little ones on it for awhile. It will never be regretted.

Call today at Coursey & Munn's Drug Store, 29 Marietta street, and obtain these wonderful Quaker Remedies. So do not delay. We prepay express charges on all orders of $3.00 or over.

TECH HIGH CAPTURES FIRST PREP PENNANT

Team Went Through Basketball Season Without Losing a Game—Marist Second.

Standing.

Club.	Won.	Lost.	P. C.
Tech High	10	0	1.000
Marist	5	4	.555
Boys' High	4	5	.444
Peacock	3	4	.428
G. M. A.	3	6	.333
Donald Fraser	1	7	.125

Yesterday's Result.

Tech High 25, Marist 19.

By Hal Reynolds.

Before one of the largest crowds of the present season the Tech High five succeeded in upholding their perfect record by defeating Marist at the Marist court by the score of 25 to 19, and by so doing captured their first prep pennant.

The game was fast and furiously contested from the first minute of play up through the last, neither team appearing to weaken much, although the fastness of the game almost got some of the players.

The team work of both of the teams was great, each team working the ball several times from one end of the court to the other, and then turning this into points for their team. Marist worked together much better in the first half than in the second, while that of Tech High was just the opposite, playing rather poor in the first half and coming strong in the second. Some idea of the fine work of the Tech High can be gained from the fact that Marist did not make a single point during the entire second half, while Tech High rolled up 14 points.

The score was tied and untied twice during the game. Once in the first half 9 to 9 and in the second half 19 to 19. Marist led her opponents throughout the first half. Cintz tied up the score in the second half by a goal from a foul and Myers put Tech High in the lead a few minutes later by shooting a goal.

The entire Tech High five put up a star game, their come-back in the second half being wonderful after their rather poor fight in the first half. Cintz, at forward, played one of the best games of his career. He scored 13 of his team's total points, although watched closely by the opposing players, and also did some swell guarding. Bedell and Laird also played a star game, as is evident from the fact that Marist didn't make a point on them in the second half.

For Marist the work of Lowry and Callahan was excellent. Lowry made 11 of the 19 points scored by his teammates and also did some fine work at passing. Callahan played a star game at guard and shot 4 points, one of his goals being made from the center of the court. The line-ups follow:

Tech High (25).	Positions.	Marist (19).
Cintz (13)	Right Forward	Lowry (11)
Myers (10)	Left Forward	Allen
Whittaker	Center	Kennedy (2)
Laird (C.) (2)	Left Guard	Cheves (C. (2)
Bedell	Right Guard	Callahan (4)

SHAFER AND TOUCHARD TO MEET IN THE FINALS

New York, February 18.—Play in the National Indoor Lawn Tennis championship singles and doubles today reduced the field to the final lists. G. C. Shafer and G. F. Touchard will meet for the singles title Thursday, while Touchard and W. B. Cragin, Jr., will contest with W. C. Grant and Shafer for the doubles honor tomorrow.

The most sensational match of the day was that in which Shafer defeated Grant, the plating-through champion, by the score of 11-9, 6-1. Shafer is the first player to defeat Grant when he has gone through a tournament so far as the semi-final round. In the other singles semi-final Touchard experienced little difficulty in eliminating W. M. Hall at 6-4, 6-0.

W. H. C. A. Wins From I. C.

The Wesley House A. C. handed the I. C. bunch a severe drubbing Monday, 21 to 8. The I. C. boys fought gamely but could not make any headway against the heavier team. Harris shined the brightest for W. H. A. C., making nine points. One of his goals was from the center of the floor.

WAHOO ASSUMES HIS DUTIES AT UNIVERSITY ON MARCH 1; WILL SIGN CONTRACT TODAY

Charlie ("Wahoo") Guyon will be assistant coach, purchasing agent and business manager of the University of Georgia athletic teams March 1.

The deal for the services of the famous athlete which has been pending for the past few weeks and has been held in abeyance several times, is closed, all but the actual signing of the contract.

This formality will be gone through with today when Judge Hamilton McWhorter, chairman of the committee appointed by the university authorities to confer with Mr. Wahoo, arrives in Atlanta today with the document.

Mr. Wahoo will take charge of a part of the baseball squad under the direction of Head Coach Cunningham immediately upon his arival in Athens the first of the month, and he and Mr. Cunningham will work hand in hand to give the university an excellent nine.

In his duty as purchasing agent and business manager, Mr. Wahoo will buy the supplies and equipment of all the university athletic teams, and his connection with Spaldings makes him pecularly fitted to see that Georgia gets nothing but the best and the most reasonable prices. He will also look after all the financial arrangements of the teams.

The team of Cunningham and Wahoo should be a most formidable one and make Georgia a much-feared team in all branches of sports. Mr. Wahoo will be idle during the summer, but will assume his duties again September 1.

EMPIRE STATE LEAGUE'S FATE WILL BE DETERMINED TODAY

Brunswick, Ga., February 18.—(Special)—Whether or not the Empire State league is to be a go will be definitely decided at a meeting of the various cities of the league to be held here Wednesday.

It seems that since the last meeting, which was held in Valdosta, interest has lagged in one or two of the cities and no organization has been perfected. Brunswick, Thomasville and Americus have organized and are ready for the beginning of the season; Cordele, it is understood, is preparing to form an association to finance the club.

Waycross and Valdosta are proving the drawbacks to the league, neither of these cities have yet started to work looking to the formation of the clubs. All of these various matters will be threshed out at the meeting here Wednesday.

ONLY SIX HOLDOUTS ON BROOKLYN TEAM

New York, February 18.—Charles E. Ebbetts, president of the Brooklyn National baseball club, who is completing his new million-dollar ball park, has rounded up all but six of the thirty-one players to whom he offered contracts for 1913, he said today.

The only men who have not signed are "Baron" Kentzer, the spitball pitcher; Otto Miller, the principal catcher; Charley Stengle, the Montgomery recruit who served in center field at the tail end of last season; Leon Callaghan, the outfield recruit from the Elmira, N. Y., club; William Wagner, the big right-handed pitcher procured from the New Orleans club, and "Benny" Meyers, who was an outfielder for Toronto last season.

Ebbets said he expected all of the holdout brigade would be within the fold, with the possible exception of Meyers, by the time the call to quarters is sounded in Augusta on March 3.

HARTNER CORRECTS CONTRACT SIGNATURE

Herman Hartner, the young semi-pro. pitcher, who signed his contract early in January, but who signed it in the wrong place, returned it signed properly on Tuesday afternoon.

WOLGAST HAS TRAINED DOWN TO THE WEIGHT

San Francisco, February 18.—When Ad Wolgast, former lightweight champion, arrived last Saturday to begin training for his bout next Saturday with Tommy Murphy, he weighed 138 pounds. Fight fans did not think he could make the 133 mark and keep his strength.

Wolgast stepped on the scales at the close of his afternoon's work yesterday and showed 134 1-4 pounds. His trainer said the surplus would be easily disposed of.

S. V. D. Wins From Wesley.

Playing superior basketball at all stages of the game, the fast S. V. D. team won their six straight when they defeated Wesley Memorial Monday evening at the Wesley court 51 to 17. The game was particularly interesting at the start but it was soon seen that the Wesley bunch was outclassed. The passing of the S. V. D. team was the feature of the game.

COBB'S PERSONAL EXPERIENCES IN BASEBALL TOLD BY HIMSELF IN CONSTITUTION NEXT SUNDAY

Tyrus Raymond Cobb, the world's greatest ball player, will present to the readers of the sporting section of Sunday's Constitution a series of articles on the national pastime.

The first of the series will appear next Sunday, written by the "Georgia Peach" himself, on his own experiences from the time he first tossed a ball until the present day.

These articles will tell of the inside workings of baseball, will include his own account of his early games on the town lots of Royston and other Georgia cities, his minor league experiences, and the real truth of the battles that he had with his belligerent teammates before he fought his way to the top of the heap.

Not only will the "Peach" deal with the intricacies of inside baseball, signal giving, coaching, etc., but his articles will be of great help to the aspiring youth of today who has hopes of becoming a major league star.

Cobb will tell the "future greats" how to steal bases, how to slide, how to field, how to throw, how to train and stay in condition, and other lessons.

Advice will be given to young players just entering the majors—how to treat umpires, the crowds viewed from a player's standpoint. In fact, baseball will be discussed from every angle in an interesting, entertaining style, educative as well as enjoyable.

FULTON LEAGUE CLOSES TONIGHT

S. V. D.-Company C Game Will Settle Championship—Agogas Will Play Company H.

The Fulton basketball league will bring its season to a close with a double-header at the Armory courts tonight. The regularly scheduled games will be ended tonight, though there are a couple of postponed games that may be played off on Thursday night.

Company H plays the Agogas and Company C plays the S. V. D. team. The latter game will be for the championship. S. V. D. leads the league by a half-game margin, not having lost a game this season, while Company C has lost but one. A victory for Company C would necessitate a play-off.

LIKELY THAT NEWNAN WILL BE A MEMBER OF NEW BALL LEAGUE

Talladega, Ala., February 18.—(Special.)—It is considered likely that Newnan, Ga., will become a member of the Georgia-Alabama league in place of the Rome club, the latter having entered the Appalachian. The next league meeting will be held in Talladega on February 26, at which time it will be permanently launched. W. H. Holms, LaGrange; M. R. Meadows, Opelika; C. L. Bruner, Talladega; W. J. Boykin, Gadsden, and Larry Brown, Anniston, all club presidents, will attend. A. D. Manning, organizer of the league, left tonight for Newnan to organize that city, preparing that city for entrance next Wednesday. W. J. Boykin, present president of the league, will likely head the organization permanently.

Valdosta Pledges Funds.

Valdosta, Ga., February 18.—Special.) Valdosta pledged the money necessary for the maintenance of her team in the Empire State league, at an enthusiastic meeting held last night. The city's representative, Hardee Bessant, will meet the other baseball promoters at the meeting in Brunswick tomorrow with the Valdosta proposition. If the other towns composing the league show up there is little doubt of the league being formed.

TROTTING MOGULS IN WARM SESSION

Chicago, February 18.—Proposed changes in the racing rules of the American Trotting association came near disrupting the organization at a special congress today.

The first fight, which lasted an hour and a half, was on the admission of proxy votes. The proxies finally were allowed to be admitted.

The next struggle was over the adoption of rule one, of the long list of rules to govern racing under the auspices of the association for 1913. These rules were revised, re-arranged and amended by the committee on rules last month and were recommended for adoption today.

Rule one declares that all trotting and pacing races shall be governed by the rules and by-laws and members shall not adopt or be governed by rules or by-laws which conflict with them. This means that the rules must not be amended to fit local conditions and on this point the disagreement centered.

Charles Downey, of Indianapolis, finally moved that rule one be deferred until all other rules should be acted on, and his motion prevailed.

Y. M. C. A. 29, Donald Fraser 24.

Donald Fraser basketball team pushed the Y. M. C. A. team yesterday afternoon in a hot game, losing by the close score of 29 to 24. The game was held on the Y. M. C. A. court, and was one of the most interesting played in some time.

Jernigan, playing center on Donald Fraser, starred for his team, throwing ten points. Phillips and Burgess each threw six points. On the Y. M. C. A. team, Scott threw the highest number of points, thirteen, while Fox threw twelve and Smith four. Mr. Griffin acted as referee. The halves were 15 minutes each.

A Cracker a Day for Fans

16---E. P. Osborn

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the sixteenth of a series of articles introducing the prospective 1913 Crackers to Atlanta fandom.

Ernest P. Osborn, the young pitcher-first baseman, who will try out for a place on the local team at the former position, will have the distinction of being the tallest and the youngest of the recruits.

Osborn is a Georgia Cracker, every inch of him. He was born in Porterdale, Ga., Newton county, April 9, 1893, and stands 6 feet 2 inches in his stocking feet.

He is considerable man now, but there is no telling how tall he will be when he attains his majority. He weighs 178 pounds.

Osborn has not had any professional experience, but his record with local semi-professionals was excellent and the cause of his being signed for a try-out with the locals.

Osborn's height and reach are said to give him the speed of a catapault when hurling. And those who have seen him work say he has good control with it.

Under Bill Smith's tutelage Osborn should improve rapidly. If he shows an aptitude and ability, his build assures him of success in organized ball.

His winter home is in Chattahoochee, Ga.

WITH LOADED PISTOL HE HUNTED TEACHER WHO SPANKED GIRL

Nashville, Ga., February 18.—(Special. Students of the local high school were thrown into a fever of excitement yesterday when Henry Blackburn, a well-known citizen, entered the building, pistol in hand, in search of Principal Hunter, who had whipped Blackburn's little daughter.

Blackburn claims that after Professor Hunter had whipped the girl on Friday morning he followed this up with another thrashing because the child told her parents.

The angry father drove up to the school in an automobile, and entered the building with a revolver in his hand. Hunter saw him coming and prepared to receive him by opening a knife. The students were preparing to witness a tragedy when a peacemaker arrived and prevented serious difficulty.

Several warrants have been served upon Blackburn. He has given bond.

FAST TRAIN FAILS TO SAVE BOY'S LIFE; RUN OVER BY WAGON

Within half an hour after he was rushed to Atlanta yesterday from Covington, where he had been run over by a wagon, Ezell Baker died of his injuries. He was 10 years old, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Baker, of Covington.

The accident occurred near his home shortly before the Georgia train to Atlanta passed through the town, and the lad was hastily placed upon it, in the hope that medical aid in Atlanta could save his life.

His body was taken to Burkert-Simmons chapel to be prepared for burial, and will be carried back to Covington today.

A. A. C. SECONDS WIN SEASON'S BEST GAME

Standing of Clubs

Clubs	W.	L.	P.C.
A. A. C.	8	1	.889
Fifth	7	2	.778
Wesley	6	4	.600
Y. M. C. A.	3	5	.375
K. of C.	3	5	.375

In the best game of the season in the Atlanta Basketball league the Atlanta Athletic club defeated the Young Men's Christian Association at the latter's court last night by the score of 33 to 32.

The game was hard fought throughout. Some brilliant goals were registered by the members of both teams and the guarding was fierce though clean. The passing alone was a faulty point.

The club grabbed the lead at the start and at the conclusion of the first half had the score 21 to 10 in their favor. The Y. M. C. A. came back with wonderful spurt in the second half and were soon leading, but the club brought them back to even again before very long. The club only scored eleven points in the second half, their goal shooting being bad, though the Y. M. C. A. guarding made them hurry their shots, while the Y. M. C. A. registered double that number.

The Y. M. C. A. team really deserved to win the game. They played their very best game of the season and their come-back in the second period ought to have brought victory. Had they played this class of ball all season there might have been a new league leader.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES, DAY BY DAY

ALL THE NEWS OF REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING

The proposition of the Georgia Baptist convention to purchase the Baptist Tabernacle infirmary, which was announced some time ago, was closed on Tuesday afternoon at the meeting of the Baptists in this city.

The consideration was $85,000 cash. The property is semi-central in its location, and is regarded by realty men as a very valuable parcel. The local Baptists admit that the property was sold somewhat below the market price, but state that it was not their intention to make a large profit out of the sale to the state organizaion.

Profit On Peachtree Lot

A Peachtree lot that has changed hands frequently within the past few months was bought yesterday for $78.000 by D. B. Carson, George Forrester and Edward E. Dougherty. It was 308 Peachtree, formerly the home of Judge Benjamin Hill, of the appellate court, and later the home of George W. Connors, of Weyman and Connors.

The lot is 60 feet in front with an 8-foot alley easement and runs back 128 feet on one side and 161 feet on the other to a rear breadth of 60 feet. It contains a two-story reside..ce and brought about $1,300 per front foot.

It was about three years ago that Mr. Connors sold the lot for $14,500, and last March in changing hands, it brought $45,000 The increase since that time to the present value of nearly twice as much shows the enormous increase in Peachtree property:

SLANGISTS ARE CONSTANTLY FEEDING ENGLISH LANGUAGE

"Slang is the great feeder of languages," according to Dr. Harry Thurston Peck, formerly Professor of English at Columbia University and editor and author of many books on our languages, who has included slang in his latest work just published under the title of "New Modern English Dictionary, Illustrated."

Dr. Peck believes, however, that a word shall have had the test of several years' usage before it is adopted as a permanent addition to the English vocabulary and in editing the most up-to-date work on English now obtainable he has added many new words not to be found in larger volumes.

The New Modern English is the "last word" in dictionary compilation, being entirely new from cover to cover, illustrated with plates in color and monotone and containing departments prepared by experts on motoring and aviation.

Some of the slang found in its pages follows: "Mucker," "swell," "snob," "muckraker," "galoot," "gal," "mug," "swipe," "rickey," "bum," "boodle," "touch," "crackerjack," "spizzerinktum," "booze." These are only a few of many, but do you know all their meanings? If you don't you need this latest dictionary.

By special arrangement with the publishers The Constitution presents it to you for six consecutive certificates and a small expense bonus.

This Dictionary is brought up to the present date in accordance with the best authorities from the greatest universities.

ATLANTA LIVE STOCK MARKET

Medium to common cows, if fat, 700 to 800, $3.50 to $4.25.

Above quotations apply to corn-fed hogs; mast and peanut-fattened hogs 1 to 1½c under.

Cattle receipts normal, market active, prices steady and stronger. Choice heavy steers are scarce and in good demand. A good supply of light fed steers from nearby feed lots were among each day's receipts.

Thomaston, Ga., sent in two loads of good mixed cattle. One load was fed by E. T. Nottingham, and the other by J. L. C. Barrow. While both of these loads were light and mixed, the cattle showed marks of care and attention on the part of the feeders, and both cars were sold to an Atlanta packer. W. R. Terry, of Shellman, was on the market last week with four cars of fed steers. These were light Georgia and Alabama steers, which Mr. Terry put on fed in October, and were a nice bunch when shown in the yards. These were also bought by the Atlanta packer. Several loads of feed lot steers are reported for the latter part of the week. In the face of the present active demand, prices will doubtless continue to be maintained.

Hogs slightly higher, with a moderate supply.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL OF THE MARKETS

COTTON RECOVERED PREVIOUS DAY'S LOSS

Best Point Reached Late in Afternoon—Close Shade Off From the Best.

New York, February 18.—The cotton market recovered practically all of yesterday's loss during today's trading, with the close steady at a net advance of 13 to 19 points.

The market opened firm at an advance of 11 to 18 points, on covering, inspired by higher Liverpool cables, claims of a better turn in European politics and reports that the dispute between eastern railroads and their firemen would be submitted to arbitration. There was considerable cotton for sale at the opening advance, which was said to be more than a response to the showing of the English market, while there was also some reselling by local bears who had covered on the break of the previous day.

These offerings caused some irregularity after the call, but were very well absorbed by European buying, a continued demand from shorts, and buying from trade sources. Recessions of only four or five points occurred from the opening figures and the market soon developed renewed firmness on favorable southern spot advices.

After the close of Liverpool, foreign buying was less in evidence, but the demand became less active without any immediate increase in the volume of offerings and the best point was reached in the afternoon when active positions sold about 15 to 21 points higher.

The close was a shade off from the best, under realizing and rather heavy selling by houses with western connections.

Private cables reported a better feeling in the English market and said that the feature was continental buying of new crops. Foreign houses bought May and July as well as October here, but were relatively active in the new crop positions and it was claimed by local bulls that foreign spinners were buying against their forward sales of goods at the present level of prices.

Dry Goods.

New York, February 18.—Cotton goods markets are steady. About 2,000 bales of goods have been sold for shipment to China. Silks are in good demand. Jobbers report an active trade in wash fabrics. Retailers are numerous in the markets.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, February 18.—Spot cotton quiet, unchanged; middling, 12 7-16; sales on the spot, 584 bales; to arrive, 225; low ordinary, 9 1-16, nominal; ordinary, 9¾, nominal; good ordinary, 11½; strict good ordinary, 11¾; low middling, 12; strict low middling, 12¼; middling, 12 7-16; strict middling, 12⅝; good middling, 12 13-16; strict good middling, 13; middling fair, 13 7-16, nominal; middling fair to fair, 13 13-16, nominal; fair, 14 3-16, nominal; receipts, 4,523; stock, 113,446.

Cotton futures opened steady at an advance of 10 to 18 points, on a much higher Liverpool market than expected. Private cable messages said that the advance there was due to heavy buying. Sellers of yesterday took alarm and bought covers on a large scale. Fresh short selling came in on the advance, but offerings were not heavy enough in the trading to supply the demand. At the end of the first half hour of business prices were 10 to 14 points up.

The market had a good undertone throughout the morning session, and there was an absence of the bearish attacks that have featured the market of late. The bull side was not aggressive at any time, the market receiving more support from the refusal of spots to follow fully the recent decline in contracts than from any other influences. At the highest of the morning, the trading months, both old and new crops, were 18 to 20 points over yesterday's final figures.

Late in the morning the ring became dull, and prices fell off a little, standing at noon at a net advance of 11 to 13 points.

In the afternoon the market made no display of activity, and prices fell off to a level of 9 to 11 points over yesterday's final quotations in the trading up to 2 o'clock.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, February 18.—Prices advanced this morning on the improvement and strong feeling in Liverpool, with a better demand than had been expected. New crops were specially desired, though there is no change in conditions, and the planting promises to be large. The liquidation of the past few days has cleared the situation, and the improvement seems on the merits of cotton at these prices. Some foreign advices are less bullish, and spots in the south are reported to be more freely offered, but prices there are mostly unchanged. The advance here was well held to the close.

Gibert & Clay.

New York, February 18.—Firm cables from Liverpool influenced a higher opening in the local market today, which was maintained, for the greater part, owing to short covering and less disposition to press selling. There is no indication of cotton being fundamentally weak, but general political and financial conditions are not such as to attract strong speculative purchases at this time.

John F. Black & Co.

New York, February 18.—There was better support today than the market has seen for some days, and yet it does not look like a market that affect the market bearishly at any time that careful traders are very timid about buying cotton. Wall street, however, bought some cotton today and there was little short selling. The close was steady at an advance of 10 to 18 points on old crop months.

Liverpool is due to come 1 to 2 up.

WHEAT BULLS FAILED ON HESSIAN FLY SCARE

Market Closed Weak One-Eighth to Three-Eighths Off—Corn Down.

Chicago, February 18.—Attempts today to get up a Hessian fly scare in the wheat market here fell flat. Closing prices were weak, 1-8 to 3-8c under last night. Corn finished 1-8@1-4 to 3-8c down and oats varying from 1-8 off to a shade advance. The outcome in provisions was unchanged to 7 1-2c higher.

Prospects of a turn to rain or snow in the west had much to do with counteracting the efforts of the wheat bulls. In addition a leading crop expert declared that talk of the multiplication of the Hessian fly at this time of the year, with temperatures as they have been in Nebraska, was nonsense. Accordingly a slight advance, which had been based partly on fears regarding the winter crop and partly on the strength of foreign markets, was more than wiped out. Interest in war rumors waned when the fact was brought to light that, compared with a month ago, Chicago prices were relatively 2 1-2c cheaper than Liverpool, and yet there had been no recent export buying here of any consequence. Total clearances today of wheat and flour at the seaboard were equal to 556,000 bushels. Primary receipts $20,000, against 672,000 a year ago.

Falling off in eastern demand pulled down corn. The deferring of labor troubles was held responsible.

Oats were sustained when elevator purchasers and shorts consequently were forced to cover.

COVERING OF SHORTS ADVANCED STOCKS

But Late in the Session a Violent Selling Movement Set In.

New York, February 18.—The sharp decline in stocks of yesterday was followed, in the natural course of events in the market, by a temporary upturn today, owing chiefly to covering of short contracts. For a time the market made a show of strength, but it was evident that the demand came from the short interest, and that the rise was accompanied by no growth of confidence, such as would stimulate trading for the long account. Even the news that the threatened strike of railway firemen had been averted produced no great effect, and after moderate gains had been established among the standard stocks the market slid off slowly. In the last hour active selling was resumed and stocks declined sharply.

The course of prices was disappointing to traders who had looked upon the dispute between the railways and their firemen as a large factor in the market. There has been such a long series of unfavorable occurrences that the interjection of a bullish factor was a novel sensation. The failure of the market to make a greater response was attributed to the remaining uncertainties of the general situation.

The rather violent selling movement of the last hour was linked with disquieting rumors concerning J. P. Morgan's state of health. The departure for Europe today of Mr. Morgan's son-in-law served as a basis for these rumors.

During the afternoon decline the Hill stocks were sold heavily, as were Reading and Southern Pacific, the latter touching a new low price for the movement of 100¼.

Bonds were heavy after showing some firmness in spots. Total sales, par value, $2,647,000. United States 2s coupon declined ⅛ and the 4s coupon ¼ on call.

Here Are the Members of the Charter Committee of Twenty-Five Whose Work Will Soon Give Atlanta a New System of Government

This photograph was taken on Tuesday afternoon in front of the city hall, where an important meeting had just been held to hear the report of the subcommittee.

REPAIRS URGED FOR PEACHTREE

North Siders Are Stirred Over the Big Holes in the Pavement Between Sixth and Fifteenth Streets.

The condition of Peachtree street, particularly that stretch between Sixth and Fifteenth, has stirred north siders.

Residents and property owners resent the indifferent attitude of Atlanta's city council and Fulton's county commission toward the most important residence thoroughfare. They say that the holes in the street are "a disgrace" to the city, and unless prompt relief is accorded the officials who have the improvement of the streets under their supervision will be asked to explain why the street has been overlooked.

It has been estimated that the street could be put in temporary repair for a little less than $100. These facts have been submitted to the street committee and the commissioners of Fulton county.

Citizens Asked Relief.

John E. Murphy, representing a delegation of indignant Peachtree residents and property owners, appeared before Atlanta's street committee of council on February 1.

The committee knew of the frightful conditions, according to several members, nevertheless Mr. Murphy offered photographs to show that the claims as to the "disgraceful" conditions were not exaggerated. He declared that vehicles could not use the street and were forced to drive in the car tracks to get by in safety.

The committee adopted a resolution urging Chairman Orville H. Hall to appear before the county commissioners, and the following day, in company with Nym Hurt, street engineer of the construction department, appeared before the county commissioners, urging that immediate steps be taken to put the street in repair.

Pavement Now Crumbling.

The Peachtree proposition expired then and there, and residents have since been praying patiently for relief. Not an ounce of dirt has yet been dumped into the holes, and the street is rapidly crumbling.

"There was a time when Atlanta boasted of Peachtree," said a resident Tuesday afternoon, "but it would be an insult to bring any visitor to the city out there to show them what Atlanta has in the way of pretty homes. In spite of the fact that the section complained of is one of the heaviest contributors to the city, it has been getting less in the way of improvements. The time for praying for help has passed. What the people are going to do is to use more forcible methods.

The representatives in council of the eighth ward, which includes the territory on Peachtree between Sixth and Fifteenth streets, are Alderman Arthur H. Van Dyke, Councilmen Clarence Haverty and W. G. Humphrey. They have endeavored to have the conditions relieved, but as the work now comes under the plans of the county commissioners they have not been able to accomplish anything.

County Will Aid, Says Turman.

S. B. Turman, one of the members of the county commission, stated last night that the Peachtree repaving was one of the early projects planned by the commissioners. He said that the work would be started just as soon as the commissioners felt assured that there would be no more freezing weather.

"The county is going to repave the street," Commissioner Turman said, "and I expect the work will begin very shortly. The work is included in the early plans of the commission."

Peachtree folks are complaining because no effort has been made by the county or the city to alleviate conditions. They say that the holes could be filled until the time arrives for paving.

In Dangerous Condition.

They say that the street is in a positively dangerous condition, and are fearful of a dreadful tragedy being enacted on the street if ever an auto should steer into one of the holes at night. In some spots the holes are so large that when it rains there is enough water in them to drown a full grown child. Wagons have been stalled for hours in some sections of the street, and autoists are rather inclined to use some other street rather than take a chance going through the mire.

The matter of taking Peachtree residents out of the mud is up to the county commissioners, say the city officials.

BARRIE MAKES APPEAL FOR THE SCOTT FUND

London, February 19.—J. M. Barrie appeals through the newspapers for a better public response to the subscription to pay the outstanding liabilities incurred by Captain Scott in his polar expedition.

Mr. Barrie asserts that Lord Curzon's estimate of $150,000 as necessary to pay Captain Scott's obligations is incorrect and that $60,000 will cover them. The slowness of the public subscription, Mr. Barrie believes, is due to the fact that the people are waiting to see what action the government may take.

MASHER BADLY BEATEN BY GIRL HE INSULTED

After Knocking Him Down Twice Miss Verna Smith Refuses to Make a Case.

After she had soundly beaten an unknown masher, knocking him down twice, Miss Verna Smith, who has managed the Kimball house telephone pay station for six years, refused to make a case against him, telling the police that he had been sufficiently punished.

Miss Smith gets off from work at 10 o'clock. Last night she was walking down Pryor street, on her way to her home, which is on the south side. At the corner of Hunter street a heavy set man, wearing a soft hat and English cut suit and overcoat, overtook her.

As he passed he addressed an insulting remark to her, but she walked on without answering him. He turned, came back, made another little speech, and found he had struck a tartar.

Her first blow landed on his jaw, and then as he fell back a step, dazed by the suddenness of it all, he was struck between the eyes and went down to the pavement.

Miss Smith's toe assisted him to rise, and three rapid blows made his return trip to mother earth equally easy. About this time there came safety for him in the sudden appearance of Officers McDaniel and Williams.

"Do you want a case made against him?" they asked. "We'll be glad to carry him down."

"No, I think he has been punished enough," she answered, "and besides, I don't want to go to court. But I would like to get him in some place where I could teach him a good lesson. I can whip him easy, I believe."

The masher was sent on his way, and Miss Smith, unescorted, but certainly able to take care of herself, resumed her homeward trek.

Morris Loth Dead.

BATTERY IS INVITED TO THE INAUGURATION

Artillery Boys Are Still Going After That Washington Trip on New Plan.

"There's no defeat for the determined" is the motto held by the boys of the Atlanta artillery. Although the "Washington campaign" has ended in the supposed abandonment of the trip for the Fifth regiment, the artillery battery, consisting of 116 enthusiastic Atlanta military boys, have not given up and have started with renewed zeal working on a new proposition to take them to the inauguration in Washington.

They have been invited by the First field battery of the District of Columbia to attend the inauguration as their guests, to be quartered in their armory and to join with them in the inaugural parade. The formal invitation was received Tuesday, and spread immediate joy in the ranks of the artillery when it was noised around at the Auditorium-Armory Tuesday night.

A "council of war" was held Tuesday night between the artillery and the Governor's Horse Guard, and Lieutenants A. J. McBride, Jr., and John F. Hallman submitted the proposition that a number of the cavalry boys combine with them in the effort to raise about $2,500 to take a full troop of about 100 to Washington to accept the invitation of the District of Columbia battery.

Accordingly, a committee was appointed of Lieutenant H. C. Ashford, of the Horse Guard, and Lieutenant McBride, of the artillery, who will begin at once on Wednesday in the effort to raise the $2,500.

The officers of the artillery are: J. Ed Eubanks, captain; A. J. McBride, Jr., and John F. Hallman, first lieutenants; Thomas W. Jones and Robert Grant Mangum, second lieutenants, and Dr. J. H. Crawford, surgeon.
